Truman Directs Court Action To Seek End of Mine Strike

TRUMAN SIGNS FOREIGN AID BILL INTO LAW

Calls It "America's Answer to Challenge Facing World Today."

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—President Truman signed the $6,098,000,000 foreign aid bill today and called it "America's answer to the challenge facing the free world today."

"It is a measure for reconstruction, stability and peace," he said. "Its purpose is to assist in the preservation of conditions under which free institutions can survive in the world."

The President in a statement said the signing "is a momentous occasion in the world's quest for enduring peace."

His action came as the administration was at work turning the legislation into a barrier against Communism in Europe and Asia.

In a separate statement, Secretary of State Marshal said the signing marked "an historic step in the foreign policy of this country."

Mr. Truman invited the following to the ceremony:

Robert Lovett, undersecretary of state; Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), chairman of the senate foreign relations committee; Senator Connally (D-Tex), Representative Eaton (R-NJ), chairman of the house foreign affairs committee; Representative Bloom (D-NY); Senator Barkley (D-Ky), senate minority leader; Speaker Martin (R-Mass), and Representative McCormack (D-Mass).

Congress approved the bill yesterday almost two weeks ahead of its April 15 deadline.

"Stop Russia" Centerpiece

The vast program, centerpiece of the government's "stop Russia" strategy, is designed to rush American goods and money to 16 western European nations, with extra funds—including military aid—for Greece, Turkey and China.

The Soviet Union and its satellites in turn have proclaimed their intent to wreck the recovery effort.

Ready for action by the President — in addition to the bill creating a temporary European itself — was an executive order cooperation administration to run the European recovery program the first thirty days. After that, the ERP's own administrator will take over.

Undersecretary of State Lovett announced yesterday that the state department has a skeleton organization all set up and ready to swing into action Monday.

Speculation over the $20,000 a year administrative position, which carries cabinet rank, centered upon Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Studebaker Corp. For the $25,000 a year assignment as roving ambassador diplomats here expected the selection of Lewis W. Douglas, American ambassador to Great Britain.

Major Provision

The major provision of the bill —which the house passed yesterday 318 to 75, and the senate by a voice vote—authorizes a 4¼ year economic recovery program for western Europe at a cost of $5,300,000,000. This is for the first twelve months beginning last Thursday, April 1.

Also included in the measure are (A) $275,000,000 for military supplies to Greece and Turkey, (B) $463,000,000 for aid to China —of which $125,000,000 may be spent for military purposes—and (C) $60,000,000 for the UN international children's fund.

This bill does not appropriate any money. Congress must do that in another bill.

However, the government can get $1,000,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corp.—to be repaid later—to get the European phase started. An RFC advance of $50,000,000 each also is authorized for China, Greece and Turkey.

Sticks To Formula

The European recovery program sticks close to the formula outlined in June by Secretary of State Marshall last June 5.

American aid will take two forms. Some of it will be given outright — probably about two-thirds of the total. The rest will be in the form of permanent reconstruction projects.

STORM HITS CRESTLINE

CRESTLINE, April 3—Approximately 100 telephones in this community were out of working order today and electric service was interrupted as the result of an electrical storm which struck here about 5 p. m. Friday. An electric pole was struck by lightning.

CIRCUS SEASON OPENS

PLAN PARADE FOR ARMY DAY

Vets, Guard Units, Bands To Start March at 8 P. M. Tuesday.

Veterans of three wars, reserve units, national guard units, recruiting officers and military vehicles together with four bands will take part in the Army Day parade here Tuesday, April 6. The route of the parade and the various divisions were announced today by Captain John H. Mills, chairman of the Military Advisory committee.

Plans call for the parade to move promptly at 8 p. m. Forming at Olney, Blaine and Garden streets, the parade will move east on Center street to State, south on State to Church and west to Orchard. The reviewing stand will be located at Main and Center streets. A half hour concert will be given by the Harding High school band preceding the parade.

Col. Taylor Grand Marshal

Grand Marshal for the parade will be Colonel Hubert L. Taylor of the Infantry Reserves, and serving as an escort will be the city police, city firemen and state police.

All veterans organizations, headed by the Fostoria Veterans of Foreign Wars Band, will make up the first division which will form on Olney avenue. The second division will form on Blaine avenue and will include Company C of the Ohio National Guard, all Reserve units in the district, military vehicles and recruiting officers. This division will be headed by the Eagles' band. The Harding High school band will head the third division which will form on Garden street and will include Boy Scouts, while the fourth division, made up of all vehicles will be led by the Pleasant High school band. The fourth division also will form on Garden street at the rear of the third division. Cars will be provided for veterans of the Spanish War, the committee announced.

Will Review Parade

Reviewing the parade will be Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith, Colonel H. L. Robb, commanding officer at the Marion Engineer Depot, W. Dexter Hazen, judge of the municipal court, Owen A. Sifritt, chief of the city fire department, Chief of Police William E. Marks, and Robert T. Mason, president of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

Saluting the team play which won the recent war and which is still in force to insure the peace, Admiral Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations, sent Army Day greetings to the Army Chief of Staff General Omar Nelson Bradley, citing the mutual aims of the services supported by the civilian populace. The day, the admiral said, is a fitting and appropriate occasion to remind the nation that through the closely coordinated efforts of its great military services, this team must remain strong for in strength is demonstrated that our great and progressive society can continue to produce efficiently without danger of losing those fundamental liberties upon which the nation is founded.

Italy Arms 330,000 To Guard Elections

By The Associated Press

ROME, April 3—The Italian government said today it has 330,000 armed men—including a shock force of 150,000—ready to strike swiftly against any attempt at election violence.

Mario Scelba, minister of the interior, disclosed the preparations in a radio address to the Italian people. He sought to assure them against possible intimidation.

"Do not fear ghosts which have been called to keep you away from the polls," he said. "Freedom to vote will be guaranteed."

FINAL RUSH ON FOR REGISTRATION

Voters Crowd Board Office To Qualify for Primary.

Prospective voters thronged the Marion county board of elections office today as the last minute rush to qualify for the May primary began in earnest.

The office will remain open until 9 p. m. Monday night, deadline for registration for the primary election.

As of 9 p. m. Friday night total registration had risen to 14,414 with the peak rush expected to continue through closing hours Monday. There were 139 registrations and 48 transfers Friday.

Total registration this year may top the last presidential election year registration of 15,879 recorded in 1944, if registrations continue to pour in at the present rate, board officials predict.

It is doubtful if registration reaches the peak figure of 1940 when the board figures topped 18,000 for that presidential election year. Total registration may come close to the 1945 figure of 16,106 when the municipal bond issues on sewer, airport and schools construction got out the vote.

OHIO, VT. GOVERNORS IN SIRUP CONTEST

By The Associated Press

CHARDON, O., April 3 — The "Battle of the Governors" takes place here today.

The contestants are Gov. Ernest W. Bison of Vermont, where they grow the most maple sirup, but not necessarily the best, and Ohio's Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, a man of discerning, if not prejudiced, taste-buds.

The two state executives assemble on Chardon public green at 2:30 p. m. to participate in a blind sirup-sampling contest of the prime Geauga county product and whatever "them downeasters" have.

A record-breaking throng of 80,000 is expected to attend this feature of the 19th annual Geauga county maple sugar festival.

A carnival-minded crowd estimated at 18,000 surveyed the battleground yesterday on opening day of the festival. Secretary Wayne Johnson described it as "the most successful opener in history."

The nippy air did just what maple farmers hoped—started the sap flowing in the numerous trees dotting Chardon green.

When they weren't sampling the sap, the good-natured crowd gravitated to exhibitions of sheep-shearing, hog-calling, wood-chopping, sawing and square dancing.

As they did in 1947, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Lodrick, Sr. of Parma, won first pirize at the golden wedding banquet as the couple married longest. They received a radio for their 66-year records. The Lodricks also received an award for nine living children.

Oldest lady at the old timers' banquet was Mrs. C. M. Blackman of Painesville. Only six months behind in age came Mrs. Clara Parr of Chester.

Preelection Arming By Reds Hit in Italy

By The United Press

ROME, April 3—Italian police cracked down today on apparent efforts of Communists to arm—with foreign help—for possible violence during or after the elections April 18.

In the port of Molfeta, north of Bari, police seized an Italian sail and motorship carrying 300 cases of rifles and "a huge quantity" of rifle ammunition, apparently brought from Fiume, in Yugoslav territory, and from the free city of Trieste.

In Sicily, police raided five towns, arrested 200 people, and confiscated large quantities of guns and ammunition. They said they also found "uniforms and helmets of Russian type" and insignia for the new "Garibaldi Brigades" allegedly being formed by the Communists.

MARTIN WARNS OF TAX BOOST IN EMERGENCY

Speaker Says Reduced Rates Will Be Increased If Necessary.

(More on Tax Bill on Page 4)

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—Some 52,000,000 taxpayers, now figuring how to use $4,800,000,000 they got in tax relief, were put on notice today to expect a swift tax boost if national security demands it.

The tax cut was put into law yesterday as congress, by an overwhelming vote, overrode President Truman's veto. He had said this reduction in federal revenues "would undermine the soundness of our government finances at a time when world peace depends upon the strength of the United States.

But House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said:

"If defense needs increase beyond what has been outlined, we would, of course, take any necessary steps to keep a balanced budget. The congress will provide adequate funds which, if properly spent, will give us full protection."

And Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.), auther of the tax-slashing bill, added:

"Should an emergency develop the congress will take such steps as are necessary because we do not propose to tolerate a return to deficite spending."

Congress Emphatic

In the showdown between congress and the President yesterday, the house passed the tax cut 311 to 88—45 more than the two-thirds majority required to override a veto. The senate rang up a 77 to 10 vote—19 to spare.

Deserting the president to vote for the Republican-backed bill were 82 house Democrats and 27 senate Democrats.

The government printing office immediately got the signal to start the presses rolling on new forms for reducing tax withholdings. These go into effect May 1.

This is the general tax picture now:

1. The 52,000,000 income taxpayers get reductions, effective last January 1, ranging from 100 per cent in the lowest income tax bracket to 5 per cent in the highets brackets. About 7,400,000 low income persons were removed from the tax rolls completely.

2. On May 1 tax withholdings from all wages and salaries will be reduced. And next year millions of taxpayers will get refunds from the government on the overpayment of taxes between January 1 and May 1.

Mr. Truman failed to stop the tax bill with his warning that such a "reckless' measure would sap America's strength at a time of world crisis, that it would fan the flames of inflation, and would put the treasury to using red ink again.

Probably the happiest person over the tax cut was Knutson, who saw Mr. Truman kill two of his $4,000,000,000 tax-slashing bills last year.

"This is the crowning feature of my life," he said.

U. S. Soldiers Surround Rail Offices To Keep Russians Out

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, April 3—United States authorities, using troops, kept 22 Russians out of a Soviet building in the American sector of Berlin today and announced they were blocking off the sector from the Soviet zone.

They said a temporary roadblock would be set up at 11 a. m. on the main highway leading from the American sector to Potsdam in the Russian zone. It will be lifted at 3 p. m.

An American officer, six soldiers and two German policemen will man the roadblock to check all persons and vehicles through, the announcement said.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor, declined to make any statement about the blockade. But it was interpreted generally as a countermove to control measures instituted by the Russians.

The roadblock will be in the Berlin suburb of Wannsee, in the American sector but close to the boundary of the Russian zone. Many Russians whose offices are in Berlin have their billets in Potsdam and use the road in question.

Surround Headquarters

Earlier, 50 U. S. military policemen surrounding Soviet railroad headquarters in the American sector prevented 22 Russian officers and employes from entering.

Two of the Russians were generals. The group was turned back when it tried to go in at 9 a. m. The military policemen encircled the headquarters last night.

The two moves were the latest in a series involving Russia and the three western allies, which share occupation of the prewar capital of beaten Germany.

Col. Frank L. Howley, head of the U. S. military government in Berlin, said today the Russian railroad building had been put under American troop control because the Russians in recent nights had sent guards there "after dark."

Guard To Remain

He said the American guard would remain until the situation had been clarified. Russians meanwhile will be barred, Howley said.

Howley disclosed Maj. Gen. Alexander S. Kotikov, Russian commandant in Berlin, protested the American move last night and asked that the American guard be removed. He said Kotokov explained a Russian guard had been put on the building nightly in recent nights because of reports that criminal elements among Germans in the Russian sector were planning to destroy valuable records in the headquarters.

It was stated unofficially Clay would take Kotokov's protest under consideration "at the earliest opportunity."

The Russians Wednesday midnight instituted controls on traffic through their occupation zone which for a day kept allied military trains from passing between Berlin and the western zones.

Three British trains and an American train made the trip yesterday and last night, apparently without interference. There was no official statement on whether the controls had been relaxed.

The Russians announced yesterday they were withdrawing from seven of the 19 committees in the four-power government of the city.

When the Russian officers showed up at the rail headquarters today, Lt. Col. Eugene W. Hilton, commanding the American troops, told them he was barring them on orders from Gen Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor.

Told they could not enter, the two generals, a lieutenant colonel and the rest of the group walked back to their conveyances and left. The lieutenant colonel was the only Soviet officer to salute Col. Hilton.

AID NAMED TO INSPECT MILK

Fred E. Ruhl Will Assist Dr. J. T. Gruber in Expanded Program.

Appointment of Fred E. Ruhl as assistant dairy inspector today marked the latest step of the health department's new milk program. Mr. Ruhl of 174 Carhart street will assist chief dairy inspector Dr. J. T. Gruber, Dr. M. M. Wienbaum, city health commissioner, announced today.

The new milk regulations were passed by the board of health Oct. 2, 1947 to become effective one year from that date.

A graduate of Harding High school, Mr. Ruhl attended Miami university at Oxford, O. He served with the U. S. Navy in World War II for more than three years. Prior to his appointment, Mr. Ruhl worked as physical director at the Y.M.C.A.

Some 240 milk producers from six counties now supply Marion's four dairy processing plants. Each of these producers' dairy farms are inspected by health department inspectors twice yearly, a total of 480 on-the-spot dairy inspections per year.

Inspecting Program

Marion's dairy plants are inspected every fourteen days and samples of milk of various producers are taken at the dairy plants for continuous laboratory control of all milk being sold in Marion. Raw milk cannot be sold for domestic consumption in Marion and all milk sold here must be from tuberculin tested cows and the plants through which this milk passes for pasteurizing must stand rigid and regular inspections to operate. Certain special types of valves, capping, cooling, and handling equipment must be employed in the processing of milk

Final Plans Made To Launch County Cancer Drive Monday

Final arrangements are being made for the kick-off dinner in the Marion County Cancer drive Monday night at Hotel Harding. Speaker for the meeting will be Dr. William G. Myers, of the faculty of Ohio State university, Columbus. The dinner is scheduled for 6:30 o'clock and the committee states that persons unable to attend the dinner are invited to come in later for the talk. To date approximately 100 reservations have been made.

Mrs. J. M. Strelitz, commander of the Marion County Chapter of the American Cancer society, will preside. Arrangements for the dinner are in charge of Mrs. LeRoy Clauer.

Mr. Myers, a native of Toledo entered Ohio State university on a scholarship in 1930 and received his A. B. degree three years later. He holds M. Sc. and Ph. D. degrees and received his M. D. in 1941.

Dr. Myers interned at University hospital during which he observed and aided in therapeutic applications of radioactive phosphorus under the direction of Dean Charles A. Doan and Professor Bruce K. Wiseman.

Since 1945 he has devoted full time to researches in medicine with the aid of artificial radioactive isotopes. Upon the recommendation of Dean Doan of the medical college he served as one of two representatives from the Ohio State university as a monitor of the Radiological Safety section for both atom bomb tests during Operation Crossroads at Bikini.

DR. WILLIAM G. MYERS

TO HEAD AIR FORCE. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg (above) will become chief of staff of the U. S. Air Force effective July 1, upon the retirement of Gen. Carl Spaatz, present Air Force chief. Vandenberg is a nephew of Sen. Arthur M. Vandenberg (R-Mich), chairman of the senate foreign relations committee.

OPPOSING IKE ON DRAFT NEED

Three Witnesses Against General's Stand in Windup of Senate Hearing.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3 — Three witnesses lined up in the senate today to oppose Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's stand that a draft and universal military training are vital to this country's safety.

The three opposition witnesses include Atomic Scientist Dr. H. D. Smyth. They will wind up the senate armed service committee hearings on the twin proposals asked by President Truman to support his "stop-Russia" policy.

Committee aides said the other two witnesses would be Truman K. Smith, former army officer, and Dr. L. H. Reyerson, University of Minnesota professor.

Specific recommendations for both draft and UMT measures were submitted to the armed services committees of both houses yesterday by secretary of defense Forrestal. He asked for registration of men up to 45, with a limited draft of non-veterans between the ages of 19 and 26.

The cabinet member said events of the past few weeks have made the two programs more necessary than ever. And Eisenhower appeared before the senate group in person, still wearing his be-ribboned army uniform, to lend support to that stand.

"In any war now," he said emphatically, "the first 30 to 60 days may determine our ability to carry on. We won't win a war that quickly, but the period is important."

Under the proposals Secretary Forrestal submitted to the two armed services committees the draft measure would provide that:

1. All men from 18 through 44 years would register, with those from 19 through 25 subject to two years' service.

2. All doctors, dentists and veterinarians up to 44 years old could be inducted if the President ordered.

3. The complete wartime selective service would be re-established from the top $12,500 a year director down to the 6,000 or more local draft boards.

4. Most of the wartime benefits for draftees would be reinstated, including allowance for dependents and a right to reclaim former jobs.

5. Exemptions would go to most veterans, married men or those with dependents, ministers and ministry students, and most national, state and local officials.

6. The actual numbers of draftees would be limited by congress through its appropriations.

IOWA, MAINE WINS STIR STASSEN CAMP

By The Associated Press

MILWAUKEE, April 3 — Claimed victories in Iowa and Maine churned Harold E. Stassen's campaign into a new lather today in a three-way battle for Wisconsin's 27 Republican presidential votes.

Acting like a man who thinks he is riding a crest, the former Minnesota governor laid out his final series of vote appeals in southwestern Wisconsin Monday before Tuesday's primary. He speaks before the Chicago board of trade tonight.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is flying back to his New York desk, uncertain of his chances in this sometimes giant-killing primary.

There were reports Gen. Douglas MacArthur might pause in his Tokyo occupation duties long enough to send some last-minute message to his supporters in Wisconsin.

Fred R. Zimmerman, secretary of state and a MacArthur delegate candidate, said it is anybody's guess what the general will do.

Dewey, who swept the Wisconsin field in 1940 and ran off with most of the delegates in 1944, left the state last night after a two-day tour without making any public claims.

He indicated only that he thinks MacArthur will lead the field but believes he will top Stassen.

California Group Backs MacArthur

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, April 3—The name of General Douglas MacArthur was bubbling atop the California political pot today.

A Republican group—acting contrary to the general's stated intentions—filed a list of 53 delegates pledged to MacArthur yesterday with the county registrar of voters.

BOARD REPORT PLACES BLAME ON MINE CHIEF

Attorney General Directed To Seek Action To End Three-Week Walkout.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3 — President Truman today directed Attorney General Tom Clark to seek a court order to end the three week coal strike.

Clark received his instructions from Mr. Truman in person at the White House.

Later the justice department said "There will be no court action today."

The President acted shortly after John L. Lewis sent a message to the nearly 400,000 idle miners telling them to do as they please about returning to the pits.

Lewis disclaimed any personal responsibility for the walkout.

Mr. Truman also released the report of a three-man fact finding board on the dispute.

Put Blame on Lewis

The board's report blamed Lewis individually for causing the walkout. It said:

"We find independent action was taken by the President of the United Mine Workers of America (Lewis' in the form of communications to the officers and members of the United Mine Workers of America which induced them to take concerted action to stop work in all the mines of the operators signatory to the agreement of July 8, 1947."

The report added:

"We find the stoppage was not independent action by miners acting individually and separately.

"Their stoppage has precipitated a crisis in the industry and in the nation as a whole."

Charles G. Ross, White House secretary, was asked how soon Clark could be expected to apply for an injunction against Lewis and the striking union members.

Up To Clark

"That's up to the attorney general," Ross said.

With the nation fast reaching the bottom of its coal piles, the United Mine Workers' chief said:

1. He has never ordered, or even suggested, that the men quit work.

2. It isn't a "strike", but only the decisions of individual miners to stop working. (Lewis has contended they are just unwilling to work.)

3. Whether the miners remain idle rests entirely with the individuals, without orders from him or any other union official.

Union headquarters declined to interpret the meaning of Lewis letter.

Promptly, onservers took two lines of speculation.

1. Some thought this was Lewis' indirect way of ending the walkout. In this view, he could not actually order the men to return without admitting what he has been denying all along—that a "strike" exists, or, by inference, that he had influenced them to stop work in the first place.

2. Others thought he was mainly interested in building up a case for a courtroom battle if the government goes through with its expected move for an injunction. The letter puts him on public record as disavowing responsibility for the stoppage and as telling the miners so.

When—or whether—the miners will return, or how soon, is a matter that the union headquarters refused to comment on.

But Lewis' words made it entirely clear that no "strike" is in progress.

Lewis Message

In a message to the members of the United Mine Workers, Lewis said:

"Any action or decision which you may care to take continues to be entirely for your own determination without direction of any character from me or from any of your international officers."

"I therefore, now repeat that you are not now under, and have never been under, any orders, directions or suggestions, expressed or implied from me, or any of the union officers, to cease work or to continue to cease work in protest to the present dishonoring (as we see it) of the 1947 contract."

Lewis has contended the 400,000 miners left the pits because they were "unwilling" to work. They began the walkout March 15 after a dispute between the UMW chief and soft coal operators over terms for payments to miners from a pension fund.

Navy Silent on News Of Atomic Task Ship

Auto Output May Set Record If High Pace Can Be Kept Up

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT, April 3—The car and truck factories went through the first quarter of 1948 at better than a pre-war normal production rate. There is more than a little question right now, however, whether they can keep up that pace and set a new production mark this year, as has been predicted in most trade quarters.

Total output for the first three months was approximately 1,300,000 vehicles. Of these more than 355,000 were trucks and coaches.

That reads like an almost certain 5,200,000 or better year's production with little or no greater effort than has been expended so far. But the industry is as uncertain about its supply of essential materials as it was at this time last year.

Some of the industry's better informed sources say the combination of a large scale military preparedness program and sizeable demands by the Marshall plan easily could upset earlier production calculations.

Right now the car and truck factories are beginning to feel the effects of the coal tie up. They have revised downward most of their April schedules This has been made necessary because of their own dwindling coal piles and the probable curtailment of steel shipments to the automotive plants.

Expect Military Demand

Most car industry experts believe at least some increased military demands will be made upon the factories during the next few months. They believe also that even if these demands are of modest proportions they will cut into the production of passenger automobiles for civilian use.

The automotive industry has a lot of excess capacity right now, but only a small part of it is readily adaptable to quick production of other than peacetime products. The truck plants, for example, probably could swing into production for the armed forces on short notice. Elsewhere in the industry manufacturing equipment is suitable only for the production of peacetime vehicles.

The feeling that even a modest upturn in the output of military materiel would be felt in car production is based on the belief it would instantly cut into the civilian steel supply. Right now the car plants are getting about enough steel for a comfortable production volume, but they are not stockpiling any of it. Some plants, in fact, have been only a few days ahead of their steel inventories.

Ford Making Changes

Ford was wholly out of production on 1948 Ford models this week. The run was completed on March 26 at the company's Chester, Pa., plant. Meanwhile assembly line conversion for the new 1949 model is being pressed and some Ford sources believe the change-over, one of the most drastic in Ford history, will be completed in less than the estimated six weeks.

The effect of the Ford changeover has been less severe on the industry's overall production than was expected. This can be explained by the fact Ford has sharply stepped up truck production and also is getting steadily increasing volume in the new Mercury and Lincoln models.

The Lincoln and Mercury dealers who were in Detroit for initial showings of the new models a week ago reportedly bought a lot of 1947 and 1946 models from used car dealers to meet demand until deliveries on the new vehicles get under way.

This created something of a stir in Detroit's used car markets and led to reports of a sudden boom. For the most part the boom appeared to have subsided with the departure of the Lincoln and Mercury retailers, although prices continue to show signs of a firmer tendency.

WALDO BOY SCOUTS, LEGION INSPECTED

Pass with Honors, Porter-Snyder Post Commended.

Inspection of Porter-Snyder Post No. 605, American Legion, of Waldo, and Boy Scout Troop 57 of Waldo, sponsored by the post, was held at a meeting of the post Tuesday night in the hall.

Conducting the inspection were Legionaires from Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, of Marion, D. J. MacDonald, district vice commander, Craig M. Rogers, county commander Jewell Ralston past commander, and J. Albert Dripps, past commander. The troop passed with honors and a small flag of honor was presented to Scoutmaster Wayne McFarland by Mr. Rogers.

Porter-Snyder post with Victor Wick as commander was commended by Mr. MacDonald for being "over the top" and for its many community activities which include the purchasing of baseball suits for the high school, donation toward the new fire truck, installing of safety signs for children, sponsoring an essay contest, and interest in general to the community. Mr Wick commended Howard Henry, manager, and Eldon Butler, coach, for their work with the Legion basketball team.

Plans were made to send a boy to Boys' State this year. The delegate will be selected by school superintendent, H. L. Swick. An announcement was made that the post is to meet at 7:30 p. m. at the corner of Orchard and Church streets for participation in the Army day parade Tuesday. Jack McKenzie will be in charge of the Army firing squad and Jack Gompf will be in charge of the Navy firing squad.

City Police Report

3 Arrests Friday

Three arrests were reported Friday afternoon by city police.

At 1:34 p. m. John Edgar Venable, 52, of 204 Sharp street was arrested on a warrant for non-support filed by Flossie Venable. This is Venable's fourth arrest on the same charge.

At 12:32 p. m. police arrested Jerry Richard Richie, 18, of 152 Pennsylvania avenue on a charge of reckless driving on East Center street. He posted a $25 bond for his appearance today in municipal court.

At 9:28 a. m. police arrested Ralph Lewis Harruff, 32, of 360 Girard avenue on a warrant for assault and battery filed by Margaret Hanovitch. He entered a not guilty plea and was released on his own recognizance to appear later, a police spokesman said.

DEWEY OPENS WISCONSIN CAMPAIGN — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, standing on a baggage truck alongside his train, to address a crowd at Kenosha, Wis., as he launched a two-day campaign designed to win Wisconsin delegates in the state's April 6 primary election. Dewey is contesting with Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Harold E. Stassen for the state's 27 delegate votes to the Republican national convention.

CHARGES JOE LOUIS STOLE WIFE'S LOVE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 3—A Negro minister asks $500,000 damages from Joe Louis, heavyweight boxing champion, for allegedly stealing the love of his wife, a New York model.

An alienation of affections suit against Louis, 33, and titleholder for nearly 11 years, was filed yesterday by Rev. Matthew C. Faulkner, 32-year-old Baptist minister of Atlanta, Ga.

Louis, married since 1935 and father of two children, is in Paris. He went to England several weeks ago for a series of exhibition bouts. He was accompanied by his wife, the former Marva Trotter of Chicago.

The suit alleged that Louis, during November, December and January, "by subterfuge, contrivance and design, maliciously" won the affections of Faulkner's wife, Mattie Carrie Faulkner.

Mrs. Faulkner, who is described in the suit as "a beautiful woman," said in New York she is 23 and is employed as a model under her professional name of Carol Drake.

The suit termed the alienation an "illicit affair," and allegedly took place while the Rev. Faulkner was serving as an Army chaplain. He was discharged last March 17.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, April 3 — Joe Louis denied today he had stolen the affections of a Negro minister's wife. "There's no truth in it," the heavyweight champion said, while eating a noon breakfast in his Paris hotel.

VIRGINIA SALE

FOREMEN TO HEAR HUMORIST THURSDAY

Virginia Sale Will Appear on Ladies' Night Program.

Guest entertainer at the Marion Foremen's Club Ladies Night dinner scheduled for Thursday night at 6:30 in the Masonic Temple is to be Virginia Sale, one of the most popular, original and heavily booked solo entertainers touring today.

Miss Sale is the younger sister of the great comedian, the late Chic Sale. Her one woman show "Americana" comprising character sketches in the Sale tradition has been so well received that she left Hollywood and the radio to tour the country.

Critics have ranked her with Cornelia Otis Skinner and Ruth Draper. She has been rated as an expert comedienne by the critics who approved her as an attractive, gracious and charming artist "capable of moving you emotionally, making you roar with laughter one moment and experience deep pathos the next."

The cross section of American life portrayed in her "Americana" sketches is done with an unerring sense of comedy and abundance of folksy mannerisms. Her show displays deft stagecraft, originality and in short is funny past belief, according to critics who have reviewed her.

Arrangements for the dinner are in charge of program chairman H. E. Webster and committee members Thad Kuenzli, A. A. Ward, John Lacey and Don Cuthbert.

Still other tests included the continuous laboratory control of all milk sold here a bacteria plate count, and tests for acid, moisture, and solids, and sediment content of all milk and the checking of moisture and butterfat content of butter. A packaging inspection of all manufactured milk products such as butter, cottage cheese and ice cream is also conducted by the health department inspectors.

Handled by Gruber

All of this complex work has been done by and under the direction of Dr. J. T. Gruber, chief city dairy inspector. The broadening of the program as approved by the health board has increased the duties of the chief inspector to such a degree that efficient performance by him of all his duties has become difficult through the very number of them. Hence the employment of Mr. Ruhl by the health department. Mr. Ruhl will undergo training under the personal direction of Dr. Gruber and assist him on the job while training, Dr. Weinbaum said today.

WARNS SOUTH MAY DO OWN NOMINATING

By International News Service

GREENVILLE, Miss., April 3—Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi served notice today that southern Democrats will hold their own presidential nominating convention if President Truman is nominated at the national convention in Philadelphia.

The gray-haired Wright predicted that Democratic delegates from the south will walk out of the Philadelphia convention if the President is nominated and will name their own candidate at a late conclave.

Although Gov. Wright declined to speculate on who might be the nominee of the southern Democrats in such event, he declared that their candidate will be a man who stands solidly for retention of "states' rights."

Gov. Wright emphasized that the "revolt of the south" against President Truman is much more serious than most people, "including many Democratic leaders," seem to realize.

The number of students in U. S. college-grade schools increased about 40 per cent between 1930 and 1940.

MYSTERY SUB SEEN IN ALASKAN WATERS

By International News Service

NOME, Alaska, April 3 — A Portland, Ore., pilot said today that a submarine, presumably Russian, originally reported as "close" to U. S. territorial waters actually was inside Kiska bay, site of an American wartime base in the Aleutians islands.

The pilot Capt. Robert G. McNary said he sighted the undersea boat March 6. He described it as "similar to those taken over from the German Navy by Russia after the war."

The 27-year-old airman said he was on a routine flight in a C-47 cargo plane when he suddenly came out of a snow cloud about 50 feet over the water.

He said the suddenness of his appearance surprised the sub, generally surmised to have been Russian, as it moved out of Kiska bay.

McNary said he saw the submarine silhouetted against the skyline about five miles away.

He noticed the dark object in the water because of the wake it caused as it moved out of the bay through a channel to the Pacific.

HARPSTER-LEWIS F.F.A. TO BANQUET THURSDAY

The Harpster-Lewis chapter of the Future Farmers of America will hold its annual community F.F.A. banquet Thursday, April 8, at 7 p. m. in the Harpster school auditorium.

Guests speakers will be Robert T. Mason, president of the Marion Broadcasting Co. which operates Station WMRN, and Paul Dasher, a member of the Morral F.F.A. chapter, who was 1947 American Farmer.

The program will be in the form of a chapter meeting with Richard Fairchild presiding. Technicolor pictures of state F.F.A. camp scenes and local chapter activities will be given on the national F.F.A. convention trip, and awards will be presented for best farming programs, scholarships, shopwork, contests and honorary membership.

Tickets for the banquet are available from F.F.A. members. The supper will be served by students of the home economics classes.

LACK OF COAL IDLES 61,000 JOB HOLDERS

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 3—More than 5,000 New York Central railroad workers were furloughed today, pushing past 61,000 the number made jobless in allied industries by the 20-day-old soft coal walkout.

The NYC sent lay-off notices to 2,000 at its Indianapolis yards, 1,650 in the Albany, N. Y. shops, 800 at the Cleveland yards and 725 at the East Buffalo yards.

The Pennsylvania railroad announced yesterday it had laid off temporarily about 10,000 workers. Hit even harder were the Chesapeake & Ohio with 13,400 idle and the Baltimore & Ohio with 12,263.

Throughout the country more than 48,000 railroaders were made idle because coal production was cut to about one-sixth of the normal 12,000,000 tons per week.

The number of steelworkers idle because of the mine walkout rose to nearly 10,000. At Bethlehem, Pa., the Bethlehem Steel Co. said the closing of coke ovens and furnaces had made 2,000 idle. The American Rolling Mill Co. banked two blast furnaces at its Ashland, Ky., plant for lack of coke.

Morrow Co. Plans Centennial, Recalling Days of Long Ago

Inns Were Centers

It is thought that the first white settler came into Morrow county in 1809 to settle in the eastern section. Immigration into the county between 1830 and 1848 was very rapid and soon all the vacant land was taken. Log taverns and cabins were erected and the taverns soon became community centers, as travellers sought rest and refreshments for themselves and their tired horses.

Mills were established for the purpose of grinding corn. Asa Mosher was credited with establishing the first grist mill and the first saw mill. He also platted the first village, Friendsborough, situated centrally between Mt. Gilead and Cardington. The promotion was discontinued and Mr. Mosher bought back the plats to make a farm tract. The early Morrow countians worked to form Morrow county but three factions developed when the final legislative action was held in Columbus during 1847 and 1848. After much political see-sawing the act was passed February 24, 1848 and George N. Clark carried the news from Columbus on horseback.

At this time there were hotels in the community centers; also supply stores, drug stores, dry goods stores, tin shops, harness shops, blacksmith shops, wagon shops, cooper shops, wool carding machines. A star route brought the weekly mail from Columbus. Stage coaches carried the freight.

Newspapers Founded

In 1848 two newspapers were founded in Morrow county, one in May and another in July. The print was so large in one of the first editions that a sentence covered half of the page.

Along with the growth of the county came schools, churches, factories, better homes and culture. Families prided themselves in their stately homes and buildings; their arts and professions commanded the respect of visitors.

Morrow county became noted for its thrift and the intelligence of its citizens. It was recognized for its political independence and choice of the best man for its political offices. The county has long been noted as a great agricultural center. Today, a world renowned manufacturing plant is in its midst.

At the turn of the century we are coming into a new era. The past generation has played its part in the building of our county and have departed from us. We have grown up with cherished memories of our homes, our schools, our churches, our farms and our factories. We must forge ahead to greater aspirations to complete the task which God has assigned to us.

Prowlers Break Into Marion Distributing Co.

Prowlers broke into the Marion Distributing Co., 160 McWilliams Court last night but nothing was taken by the midnight visitors, a preliminary survey this morning indicated.

Entry was gained by breaking a glass from a window above the platform on the north side of the building.

The entry was discovered at 7:48 a. m. this morning by Lowell G. Coon, company manager, who reported the incident to police. A police spokesman said a thorough investigation is in progress.

CHOIR CONCERT PLANNED

BUCYRUS—Sixty-three voices will be heard in the annual spring concert to be presented by the Bucyrus High school choir Friday, April 30. The program of classical songs, sacred and secular, folk songs, Negro spirituals and other numbers will be directed by Miss Edna Ulmer. There will also be novelty dance routines and ensembles.

BUCYRUS PASTOR LEAVING

BUCYRUS—Rev. Weaver Keener, pastor of Bucyrus Church of Christ, has accepted a pastorate at Fremont, Mich., and will leave with his family April 13. Rev. Keener came to Bucyrus from Eaton, Lorain county and since has completed theological work, receiving his B.D. at Oberlin college last year. The pastor was given a farewell by his congregation Thursday.

VOTER'S MEETING SET AT LABOR UNION HALL

An old fashioned voter's mass meeting is scheduled for 2:30 p. m. tomorrow at Marion Central Labor Union Hall, 134½ East Church street.

The object of the meeting is to give all candidates wishing to appear a chance to state their views and aims to the voters. The meeting is sponsored by the Labor Non-Partisan Political League and has no affiliation with any political party," said Charles W. Curren, of 1178 Cheney avenue, chairman of the committee organizing the meeting.

The organizing committee was appointed by Local Union 1287 of the International Association of Machinists.

Three candidates have signified their intention of being present at the Sunday meeting. They are John T. Seimon of Kenton, Democratic candidate for representative to congress; Ralph Van Atta of Wyandot county, Democratic candidate for state senator, and Otis L. Hindman, 371 Leader street, Republican candidate for Sheriff. "All other candidates are invited to attend," Curren said.

RAILROADER HURT

Grady Ray, about 55, employe of the Erie railroad who lives near Kent, suffered injuries about 1 a. m. today at the Kenton avenue crossing here. It is thought that he must have walked into cars that were switching. He was taken in the M. H. Gunder and Sons ambulance to City hospital where X-rays were to be taken today. When the accident happened, he had just finished his work here and was to return to his home, it was stated. He is employed as a locomotive crane operator.

PEACE is a guy named "JONES"

He's neither diplomat nor statesman. But without him, diplomacy would be a one-way street. And statesmanship, a beggar's feeble pleadings.

For he is what lends firmness to our international policy. He is the "strong right arm" of a people determined to live in peace with the rest of the world. He is "Pfc. Jones"—the man behind the man at the peace table.

You'll find him in the ranks of our 100% volunteer Army, in the National Guard, in the Organized Reserve Corps and in school and college R.O.T.C. units.

And on Army Day—April 6—you can salute him for the contribution he is making to World Peace. That's the day these fine organizations go on review. By visiting the Army Day exhibits and events planned for your community, you can show Pfc. Jones that you are interested—and appreciative.

County Music Festival To Be Held Monday at Edison School

The annual Marion County Music Festival in which approximately 250 students from 13 county schools will participate will be presented Monday night at 8 p. m. in Edison Junior High school auditorium.

The musicale is under the direction of 14 music supervisors in the county system with James Grabill, supervisor at Pleasant school, chairman of the festival committee.

Guest conductors for the event will be Earl E. Beach, professor of instrumental music at Ohio Wesleyan university and Ellis E. Snyder, instructor of vocal music at Capital university, Columbus.

The program will include an 80 piece band, the pick of instrumental students in the county schools, an 100 voice girls glee club, 60 voice boys glee club and a mixed chorus of 160 voices. Prof. Beach will conduct the band portion of the program and Mr. Snyder will direct the glee clubs and mixed chorus. Accompanists will be Mrs. Mary Salisbury, supervisor at Caledonia, Mrs. Melvina Keeler, supervisor at Green Camp and Mrs. Martha Rice, supervisor at Waldo and instructor in voice at Prospect.

The county band will present five selections as its portion of the program. These include: "Billboard March," by Klohr; "Children's Prayer" from Hansel and Gretel by Humperdinck; "His Honor" by Filmore, "South of the Rio," medley of Latin American numbers arranged by Olivadoti and "The Booster" by Klein.

The girls glee club will present four selections, "Bless This House," by Brahe, "All the Things You Are" by Kern, "By the Bend of the River" by Edwards, and "Alouette" as arranged by Alexander.

Two selections to be offered by the boys glee club are "Kentucky Babe" by Geibel and "Bells of the Sea" by Selman.

The concluding portion of the program will be presented by the mixed chorus and comprises "Beautiful Savior" by Riegger, "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise" by Seitz, "One World" by Button-O'Hara-Wilson and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" as arranged by Ringwald.

Selection of students for the music groups was made by local supervisors in February with rehearsals conducted at the various schools at regular intervals during the past month in preparation for the annual presentation. Guest conductors were present for concluding rehearsals this week.

Music supervisors in the county system aiding in arranging the festival include Mrs. Mildred Ensley, Claridon, Miss Ruth Dreyer, Grand Prairie, Miss Dorothy Richey, LaRue, Miss Mary Mowery, Meeker, Mrs. Pearl Bailey, Morral, Mrs. Dorothy Lovett, New Bloomington, George Reed, Prospect, Mrs. Eleaner Showers, Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Margaret Hernow, Martel.

Galion School Board Sponsor for Park

Special to The Star

GALION, April 3—Supervised play at Heise park during the summer vacation will be sponsored by the Galion board of education, Board Clerk Isabel Monroe has announced. The summer playground program last year was community-financed, with money raised in a drive sponsored by the American Legion.

The board has employed Richard Auker, now serving as Senior High school social science teacher, to assist the track coach, Ed Hixson; accepted the resignation of Mrs. Ralph Decker as teacher at North school, and employed Mrs. Mable Friar as teacher to fill the vacancy. After the meeting, members met with Harry Brumenshenkel, Mansfield architect, to discuss the building program of the Galion schools.

Announcement by Mrs. Marguerite Stark Bellamy of Cleveland Heights of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Joan Marguerite Bellamy to Robert Carroll May of Suffield, Conn., is of interest here. Mr. May is the son of Mrs. Carroll Holman May, a former Marion county resident, and the late Prof. May of Ann Arbor, Mich., and a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoch of west of the city.

The daughter of Paul Bellamy, editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, Cleveland, Miss Bellamy graduated from Hathaway Brown school, having previously attended Park school. She is a senior at Sarah Lawrence college in Bronxville, N. Y., and is president of her class.

Mr. May was graduated from the University of Michigan School of Architecture in 1937 and spent the following year traveling in Europe as winner of the George Booth Traveling Fellowship in Architecture. The next three years he was a member of the Taliesin Fellowship under the architect, Frank Lloyd Wright. He entered the U. S. Naval Reserve in 1942, and after training at the Midshipman School in Chicago was with the Subchaser Training Center of Miami, Fla., then with the South Atlantic Fourth Fleet. When retired to inactive duty he had the rank of lieutenant. He is now a practicing architect in Hartford, Conn. The wedding will take place in June.

Mrs. Edward Doyle entertained members of the G.N.O. club at a dinner party Wednesday evening at her home east of Waldo. Bridge was played with high honors going to Mrs. Ray Williams, second and galloping to Mrs. Clair Ridgway, and low to Mrs. Iscah Beck. An Easter gift exchange was held and a white elephant sale was conducted. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ray Williams on East Church street.

Mrs. George Steele was hostess to the Sunset Euchre club Thursday evening at her home on Davids street. High honors in cards went to Mrs. Sam Pruzzo, second to Mrs. Ben Eddy and floating to Mrs. Arthur Glassmeyer. Mrs. Richard Leonard, a guest, was presented the guest award. MRS. J. A. LEE JR.

Bowman - Lee Ceremony Read At Church Here

MISS IMOGENE IRENE BOWMAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bowman of 987 Henry street, became the bride of James A. Lee Jr., Easter Sunday afternoon in the First Church of the Brethren. The single ring service was read by Rev. E. M. Hertzler, former pastor, in an open church ceremony at 2:30 o'clock.

The altar was decorated with two large bouquets of white snapdragons, a large basket of mixed flowers, and tall white tapers held in two seven-branch candelabra. One-half hour of wedding music, which included the traditional wedding marches, was played by Mrs. Elwood Cowgill. Mrs. Glenn Chard was the soloist. Her selections were, "Oh, Promise Me," DeKoven, "I Love You Truly," Bond, and "Always."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of ice blue slipper satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a rather high neckline, and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The full skirt was made with a peplum which formed the long train. A band of ice blue satin caught at either side with ribbon bows held her fingertip veil of light blue. She carried a white Bible which was carried by the bridegroom's sisters, Mrs. James R. Erick and Mrs. Ralph W. Bosse at their weddings, marked with gardenias and showered with satin ribbon streamers. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. John Rayner was the bride's matron of honor, and the bridegrooms twin sisters, Marjorie and Margaret Lee lit the candles. The attendants gowns were made identical to the bride's with cap sleeves. Mrs. Rayner wore a light pink gown and a pink and white carnation corsage. The candlelighters' gowns were floral print, and each wore a halo of white carnations in their hair.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Lee of 534 Uncapher avenue, was John Rayner, and ushers were John Lee, brother of the bridegroom and Harold Bowman, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Bowman chose for her daughter's wedding a gray floral print dress with gray, black and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a black floral print dress with which she wore black and white accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

The bride's parents were hosts at a reception in the church parlors following the ceremony for 80 guests. The table was centered with a bridal cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom and was lighted with blue and white tapers. Assisting were the bride's aunt, Mrs. Irene Coffey, the bridegroom's aunts, Mrs. Homer Swisher of Bucyrus, Mrs. Ralph Gay, Mrs. Seymor Bibbee, Mrs. Thomas Berry and Mrs. Clarence Cranmer.

When the couple left on a wedding trip the bride wore a light pink three-piece suit with gray accessories and her bridal corsage.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal party at their home Saturday evening. The bride's gifts to her attendants were compacts and the bridegroom gave the best man a billfold and the ushers tie clasps.

Out-of-town guests were from Kenton, Mt. Victory, Columbus, LaRue, Bucyrus, Worthington, Bellefontaine and Galion.

BOX SOCIAL SCHEDULED AT CLARIDON WEDNESDAY

The Claridon Community club and Farmers' Institute will conduct a box social and program Wednesday night at the Claridon school, Carl Lehner, club president, reported today.

Speaker for the program will be Judge Edward J. Ruzzo of the Marion county juvenile and probate courts. He will illustrate a talk on "Juvenile Delinquency" with movies.

Ladies are asked to prepare the boxes for the social. Lou Wickersham will serve as auctioneer with proceeds to go to the Claridon Farmers' institute. Mrs. Morris Anthony is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

PORTER-SNYDER POST AUXILIARY MEETS

One application for membership was read and accepted at a meeting of the Auxiliary to Porter-Snyder Post No. 605, American Legion of Waldo Tuesday night in the hall. Reports were made that Easter gifts were sent to the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home at Xenia and Easter baskets were filled and distributed to children in the Waldo community. An announcement was made that a play, "A Poor Married Man," is to be presented for the benefit of the auxiliary April 10 at the Claridon school. Plans were made for a card party to be held April 16 in the Legion rooms. Mrs. Robert Buckingham and Mrs. Jack McKenzie were named on a committee to purchase prizes. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

MRS. AILEEN BENNINGHOFF

Book Reviewer To Appear On Marion Program

A REVIEW of "The Bishop's Mantle," by Agnes Sleigh Turnbull, will be presented by Mrs. Aileen Benninghoff of Lakewood, at the monthly meeting of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs, Tuesday night at Hotel Harding. The meeting is set for 8 o'clock. Completing the program will be vocal and instrumental music.

Mrs. Benninghoff is one of Cleveland's best known professional book reviewers. Averaging 10 speaking engagements a week she is in demand for appearances before clubs, church groups, Parent-Teacher units and other organizations. Many of her reviews are given at benefits and proceeds of her talks before college clubs have gone into scholarships and building funds.

A kindergarten teacher before her marriage she became a reviewer 15 years ago, and dramatizes her stories for adults. To round out her repertoire of 25 books she has to read about 250 books. In acting a story or book she often uses one or more dialects. In addition to her work as a reviewer Mrs. Benninghoff is active in Cleveland civic affairs.

HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS

Two automobilee accidents in the Marion area occurred yesterday, the state highway patrol reported. Robert Syler of Akron, driving a car and hauling another on a towbar, suffered minor injuries when the cars went out of control on a curve in the road on highway 42 south of Cardington at 6 p. m. yesterday. A semi-truck, driven by Homer Weakly of Newark, ran out of control on a curve on highway 61 south of Mt. Gilead and into a roadside ditch at 4:45 a. m. today without injury to the driver, the patrol said.

UHLER'S

Relief for 52 Million U. S. Taxpayers Granted by New Law

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—Here is how the new tax law, passed by congress yesterday over the President's veto, works:

1. Grants relief to all the 52,000,000 taxpayers, ranging from 100 per cent in the lowest income bracket to 5 per cent in the higher brackets. It removes 7,400,000 people from the tax rolls completely.

2. Reduces, effective May 1, all tax withholdings from pay envelopes and salary checks. Since the reduction is retroactive to January 1, taxpayers would get refunds next year on such overpayments from January 1 to May 1.

The reductions are accomplished by:

1. A $100 increase in personal exemptions—from $500 to $600.

2. Application of the "community property" principle to all states. This permits husbands and wives to split the family income equally for tax reporting purposes—thus holding the tax rates at lower bracket levels. A dozen states now have this principle by local law.

3. Additional percentage cuts. These are figured in after the preliminary tax estimate is made on the basis of old law rates, but using the increased personal exemptions and the community property principle. These extra cuts are provided as follows:

12.8 per cent off the tax on the first $2,000 of income (after deductions and exemptions).

7.4 per cent off that part of the tax levied on income above $2,000 and up to $136,700.

And 5 per cent off the tax on any part of a person's income above $136,700.

(These percentage cuts are in addition to the 5 per cent reduction in effect since 1946).

4. An additional $600 exemption for persons 65 years or older, bringing their total personal exemption to $1,200. Exemptions for blind persons also are increased.

5. Applying the community property principle to estate and gift taxes.

The optional 10 per cent of income deductions for contributions, other taxes, medical expenses and the like—if they are not itemized—is continued. But the maximum deduction is increased from $500 to $1,000.

A table showing the weekly withholdings from wages and salaries that will become effective May 1 under the new tax law follows:

(Column numbered 1 is the amount withheld for a single person; 2, a married person with no children; 3, married, one child; 4, with two children.

EAGLES TO OBSERVE 45TH ANNIVERSARY

Initiation, Dinner and Program To Mark Event.

The forty-fifth anniversary of the organization of Buckeye Aerie No. 337, F. O. Eagles will be celebrated Sunday with the initiation of a class of approximately [illegible] candidates, a banquet in the evening followed by a program of entertainment. The initiation at 2:30 o'clock will be followed by the banquet at 5:30 and at 7:3[illegible] there will be a Gay '90's floor show by Ladies Auxiliary No. 297 of Columbus. Later Gary Johnson and his orchestra will present an entertainment.

Buckeye Aerie No. 337 was instituted on March 23, 1903 in what was known as the old Red Men's hall at the corner of South Main and Church streets, with 76 names on the charter. Colonel Votey, a past president of the Toledo aerie, presided for the installation.

The lodge has one member, John A. Able, who has attained a national position in the organization. Joining the aerie on March 13, 1907 Mr. Abel went through the chairs and became president of Buckeye aerie in 1911. The following year he was elected secretary, a position he held for 27 years. In 1927 he was elected state president and in 1939 was made grand worthy president. He is now chief auditor of the national organization with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo. He is a life member of the local aerie.

In 1926 the aerie purchased their present building from the Odd Fellows lodge. It has a membership of 1,000.

U. S. PLANES ARRIVE IN BERLIN PAST SOVIET LAND BLOCKADE — Supplies from four U. S. C-47 planes are unloaded in Berlin's Tempelhof airport following their arrival (April 2) from Frankfurt, Germany, past the Soviet land blockade of the former Nazi capital. The British reported they had no special trouble getting a train to Berlin, and later in the day a dispatch from Helmstedt said an American train crossed the border into the Soviet zone. Global Scene

By DeWitt Mackenzie

PARADOXICAL though it seems, the most hopeful news which workers for peace have had in a long time is the disclosure that the United States has "an adequate supply" of atomic bombs and is steadily making more.

Military strength is the best guarantee any country can have against aggression so long as the world still breeds throwbacks to barbarism. It's tough to have to admit that peace must be maintained through fear rather than through brotherly love. But that's the way it still is.

MACKENZIE

So as the garlic laden breath of war continues to blow warm upon our necks, from you know where, it is good to hear from members of congress that David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the atomic energy commission, has given the house appropriations committee this assurance about the status of our bomb supply. Equally encouraging is the assertion by Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa, chairman of the senate-house atomic energy committee, that he believes if war comes again America should use the bomb with the aim of shortening the conflict and saving lives.

"I do not think the bomb should be used indiscriminately," the senator told a reporter. "But I have no qualms about our using it strategically, where it will be an effective means of ending the war."

That makes sense. War means killing, and any one who tries to compromise on that immutable fact is merely defeating his aim of lessening the disaster. Of course the first objective of every right-minded person should be absolute peace and the outlawing of war. But if peace is shattered by an aggressor, the most humane way of dealing with the situation is to knock him out the quickest way possible under accepted rules of war. That's the goal of every general staff—and it means killing.

JUST AFTER AMERICA had been forced into the last war I heard a clergyman tell a congregation of perhaps 1,000 from his pulpit:

"I am going to say something which will shock some of you immeasurably, especially coming as it does from one wearing clerical cloth. There are times when Christians must kill, and this is one of them."

Yes, that idea is shocking, but we shall not escape it until that happy day when we can make our United Nations function for peace. Meantime our business is to carry out as expeditiously as possible any unwelcome job which we have thrust upon us by aggressors. There is no sense in condoning the sacrifice of millions of young soldiers on the battle field in "legitimate" warfare, and shying at the killing of a few score thousands of civilians with an atomic bomb—if that will end, or greatly shorten the conflict. Apropos of this, and just in passing it is well to note that it's just as painful for a soldier to be killed as it is for a civilian.

THUS IT IS ENCOURAGING to feel that if we are attacked we shall not hesitate to use atomic bombs if necessary. Naturally, as Senator Hickenlooper says, the atomic bomb should be used only for strategic purposes. The useless killing of civilians or destruction of cities is wicked and indefensible. But if you could wipe out the enemy's industrial centers overnight, thereby ending the war, it would be the right thing to do.

It's well that we should get this problem of the atomic bomb ironed out in our minds, because one of these days we may have to act quickly. Hesitation might cost us our freedom.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

UNDER Dicky's merciless questioning—that was the only adjective to apply to my husband's interrogation—Georges' lips set themselves in a thin, anguished line of martyrdom—to my surprise I found that I was not doubting the sincerity of his emotion—and then opened to reply in low measured tones.

"There is only one plan I could have," he said, "tell Olina the truth, call off the marriage, aid your niece to get a divorce, and then marry her."

"By the Lord Harry, lad, I believe you really mean that," he said, then went swiftly on, lifting his hand against the volley of protest which we both saw forming behind Georges' lips.

"Your troubles are over, boy," he said. "You've come to the right office. Dr. Richard Graham, C.O.W.L.P.

"Yes, I know you're not familiar with the letters of that degree," he went on, and I knew that the broad grin which accompanied the words was an outlet for the inward laughter which was consuming him. "It's a new, only put in effect recently, and the letters mean Consultant On Worrisome Love Problems!"

Even if Georges' line of talk during the last few minutes did appear to have qualified him for Georges had resumed his seat, then he leaned forward, and spoke as if he were measuring his words.

"I am not making game of you," he said, "although I have good and sufficient reasons for doing so, as you yourself, will be the first to acknowledge when you get back your sanity.

"I simply am trying to get some home truths over to you," he said.

Georges' face set itself again in obstinate lines.

"I have told you that I will accept one truth only from your niece's own lips," he said.

"Then you never will see or hear from her again," Dicky said flatly.

"You mean," Georges stammered, plainly aghast, "that you and her — husband — would dare to coerce her. You—you wouldn't."

Dickly laughed outright at that.

"You're damned right we couldn't, nor a regiment of men, if she took a notion to see you. But, you anointed ass, can't you get it through your head that Mrs. Verlizen has no desire whatever to see you? Fortunately, she does not know of this latest brain wave of yours. She has no idea that you believe she has been near death's door because of unquited love for you. I hope she never does hear that humiliating news. Haven't you any idea what a proud woman would suffer if she knew that some man, who, in her early girlhood, had been for a brief period her youthful ideal, was spouting a lot of tripe like that all over the landscape?"

Dicky's favorite epithet of damned anointed ass," he does have some gray matter in his brain cells, and I was not surprised to see him spring to his feet.

("You are making game of me," he began furiously, but Dicky also rose with the effortless appearance of indolence which makes his rapid movements so effective.

"Sit down and listen to me," he said in tones that I scarcely could hear, but which had something the effect of low menacing thunder.

He said nothing more until

STRENGTH ... to see beyond tomorrow
Enduring peace is the product of co-operation. But weakness cannot co-operate; it can only beg. That's why it's so important that we keep this nation strong.
Army Day, April 6, is the day every one of us can reaffirm our faith in a strong, prepared America. It is the time we should turn our attention to those patriotic citizens who have pledged themselves to protect America and preserve the peace.

A Blow for Freedom

FOUR-TO-ONE approval by the house of representatives for the foreign aid program winds up one of the greatest decisions ever made by a free society.

In reaching the decision, the United States has threaded its way through doubts and misgivings that sometimes have hidden its objective. But the objective is still intact. It was stated by Secretary of State Marshall on June 5, 1947, at Harvard university:

"The United States should do whatever it is able to do to assist in the return of normal economic health in the world...Our policy is directed not against any country or doctrine but against hunger, poverty, desperation and chaos. Its purpose should be the revival of a working economy in the world so as to permit the emergence of political and social conditions in which free institutions can develop... Any government that is willing to assist in the task of recovery will find full cooperation on the part of the United States. Any government which maneuvers to block the recovery of other countries cannot expect help from us. Furthermore, governments, political parties or groups which seek to perpetuate human misery in order to profit therefrom politically or otherwise will encounter the opposition of the United States."

There has been no more forthright statement of good will in modern times. For the first time in history a major power proposed that its basic foreign policy should be founded on the Christian ethic of helpfulness.

Despite interference by a government maneuvering to block helpfulness the United States has debated the proposition and affirmed it by legislative enactment. Despite its own grave doubts of the outcome, it has reached out a helping hand to societies striking, even though weakly, for the preservation of free men and free institutions.

There has been a violent reaction. The Russian dictatorship has intensified its efforts to block the one thing it has no defense for—a Christian attitude. Its opposition has made the gamble even greater than it was when Secretary Marshall proposed it 10 months ago.

If in a century there are still free institutions and free men, they will be a tribute to a society which believed the way to save freedom was to prove what freedom could do. The Marshall plan alone will not be enough. But its adoption is the finest gesture of confidence in freedom ever made.

Whittled Down to Size

CONGRESS had no other reasonable choice when it whittled Mr. Truman down to size Friday by overriding his third veto of a bill to reduce individual income taxes.

Contrary to what he said in his veto message this time—and twice in 1947—the issue was not over the guesswork of budget arithmetic. It was over the right of a chief executive to set his own opinion against the collective decision of congress.

In 1947 Mr. Truman did it twice on tax reduction proposals and twice was upheld by a narrow squeak. It was imperative to remind him and his discredited backers that such an abuse of the veto power by an executive and a congressional minority was intolerable. Only one other president, Franklin D. Roosevelt, ever dared to interfere with the congressional right to decide tax matters, and Mr. Roosevelt was rebuked by the resignation of his party's senate leader, Alben Barkley.

Mr. Truman, a weaker executive by far than his predecessor, had gone further than even Mr. Roosevelt thought he dared to go. He asked for it and he got it, as he probably knew he would.

It may be, as he says, that congress is wrong. The international prospect is causing opinions about taxation and the relationship of taxes and economic affairs to be revised drastically. But congress has as good a chance to be right as the Chief Executive in guessing what may happen. It has salvaged the important principle that no Chief Executive should abuse the veto power to obstruct the will of a majority.

No Help for Spain

WHEN senate and house conferees eliminated the amendment extending ERP benefits to Spain, they eased the state department's discomfiture and assured the Marshall plan's rapid passage.

It would have been better had the amendment not been proposed, for it was doomed from the start. Franco's Spain isn't one of the European "societies striving for the preservation of free men and free institutions."

Spain is outside the 16-nation council of European economic cooperation, and the house's gesture gave those nations an unearned rebuke. Further, it gave the Communists ammunition in their campaign to show that in the United States there is a considerable group that would extend aid to reactionary forces.

Spain will be deserving of aid when there is evidence that its people are being freed from the yoke of the Franco dictatorship.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

U. S. Must Be Ready To Meet Defense Emergency.

IT SEEMS to me that as things are the government should at all times be in a position to meet any emergency for the national defense. Therefore, the draft is a reasonable measure. Certainly, our present objective enemy will give little or no notice. In fact, the atomic bomb makes notice of war impossible. We must at all times be ready, even though a permanent standing army is offensive to the American people. That is one of the many prices we have to pay for the mistakes of our times.

SOKOLSKY

On the other hand, if the government has the draft, universal military service would seem to be unnecessary. A six-month period of orientation and indoctrination is either too much or too little. If after eight years in elementary school and four in high school, the American boy has still to be told that he is an American, something exceedingly foul exists in our schools. If that task is to be undertaken by the Army after the child has been corrupted by the schools, six months is not enough. Instead of disrupting the child's life by universal military service, we ought to discover what is wrong with our schools—and correct what is wrong, the educators notwithstanding.

The draft is a fairer, a more equitable system of handling this problem. During the draft period, the young man would have ample time to be training in military service and formation. Those draftees who are married or whose work is essential could be inducted in the National Guard, which should be increasingly important, particularly as, in the next war, the fifth column, consisting of American citizens, may be our severest enemy.

Make It Permanent

So, let us have the draft as a permanent institution, using such manpower as we actually need, no more, no less. It is infinitely important to keep as many of our boys in college for technical training as is possible. Chemists for instance, are as important as soldiers for the national defense.

The real obstacle to a sane approach to the problem is the reversion to the fear technique. If the American people have to be frightened into patriotism, our civilization has failed and will be destroyed. If the Army and Navy have to use the clatter of erstwhile Stalin boosters on the radio to stir the American to a love of country, the Army and Navy have lost the confidence of the American people. If they have to have scaresters shrieking over the airwaves that Stalin is on his way over here as they screamed that Hitler was on his way over here, then we are a debased race.

No Fear Involved

Not by fear is a strong people moved to love their country and to make sacrifices for it. The proof of the truth of that is that the scare glamor has fallen flat and the American response to it has been without faith or fervor. Nothing can move our people but a great faith in our civilization, a fervent belief that we live under a form of government and in a way of life that is superior to all others, and that for it we are willing to die.

It was in that spirit that the pioneers risked the forest, fought the Indians, crossed fierce and unknown rivers and built a free society for courageous people. It was not fear that produced a Miles Standish or a Daniel Boone or a Lewis and Clark. It was not fear that stirred our ancestors to write the Mayflower compact, the Declaration of Independence, or the Constitution of the United States. A people who fear, cringe before power and debase themselves before the mighty.

It is not by fear that we shall achieve greatness. It is by faith—by faith in our institutions, in our civilization which is based upon the dignity of man, protected by our constitution and law.

That was not told our soldiers in the orientation and indoctrination courses in the last war. Instead they were told the wonders of our ally, Soviet Russia, wonders that we are now being told were, in reality, lies. We want no more lies of one kind or another.

How's Your Ambulation?

By Frank Tripp

I WENT to a hospital for a checkup. A friend gave me valuable advice. "You'll be safe if you keep away from the brain specialists," he said.

I took the rest of the works. Much to their disappointment, the doctors on the assembly line found no major parts missing; and none that won't last until I'm hung.

TRIPP

All they found were a few loose screws, which was no discovery at all. Editors have known that for years.

While I was there I thought I'd dig up a story; a medical story that ordinary human beings can understand. They suggested that I write about ambulation. I says, "Show me one."

A young doctor said, "There goes one now." She was struggling down the corridor.

I stepped up to the past middle aged woman, who was decidedly past middle weight, and I asked solicitously:

"Is your ambulation coming along all right?" It was a mistake.

She turned an ugly stare on me and raised her hand to swat my face, but put it on the wall to steady herself instead.

"Why, you fresh, white-haired old fool; you insulting old—," she shouted. "Nurse, come quick!"

One came in time to save her from a stroke. I could see that the mad lady was one to have the last word and, fearing it might really be her last, I beat it.

My experience around hospitals has been limited but I should have known that it's smart to learn why a strange woman is in the repair shop before you ask her how's anything.

Publicity Needed

The encounter convinced me that ambulation needs more publicity. How could any layman believe that doctors would make use of a term so common that it might apply to a baby carrier? Maybe that's what roiled the plump lady.

This ambulation thing is great stuff and I'm just the guy to explain it so you can understand.

Let's take the case of Bridget Murphy who did our washing when I was a boy. Bridget did six washings a week, at 50c each, while her husband Tim drank up the dollar-ten a day he got for digging ditches.

Came the time when Bridget was about to add to her already adequate family. I was too young to remember the concern with which my mother must have watched the approach of Bridget's blessed event; which at no time interfered with her washing a day.

I do remember the event itself, for it was much talked about at our house. It happened the day before Bridget was to come to us. Her little Mickey came to say, "Maw can't come; she's sick."

My mother thought it would be nice to cook something to send to the Murphys. The second morning she dispatched me with it. As I was leaving the door Bridget was waiting to enter.

Definition

She was incensed that my mother would not let her do the wash. She went home carrying mother's offering, did another's wash that day and returned next morning and did ours.

That's ambulation. Maybe a little severe for the present flabby generation; nevertheless it was nature's forerunner of common surgical practice today. More strenuous, but the same idea.

Whether it's childbirth, hernia, appendicitis, gall bladder or what not, you're up on your feet about the second day. They get you up and at 'em.

Stitches pull out? Naw! Nothing hapapens that isn't good for you. Exercise improves circulation, moves healing blood to the wound, allays clots and restores strength.

Helps nature just like Bridget Murphy's wash tub did 50 years ago. Few are the surgical cases that ambulation does not bring to earlier recovery.

But there are birds who can never enjoy an operation now. Such exertion would be for beyond their dignity and keep them in the hospital for life. And worse luck for the chronic grumblers: it takes all the zip out of their chief topic of conversation.

It Is Better To Give Than To Be Solicited

Douglas, Ga., merchants have designated this as "Leave Us Alone Week."

It's the greatest thing since sweaters.

There'll be no drives, no campaigns, no appeals . . . no hands out for handouts.

The only high pressure areas will be on the weatherman's maps and, for once, all the panhandlers will be in Texas.

In recent years, we have changed from a solicitous people into a soliciting one.

Every citizen has a cause . . . and every cause a deficit.

Douglas' "Leave Us Alone Week" should have a lasting effect on the entire community. Everyone will be leaning better lives, once they know what heaven will be like.

"Shantrailer" Tagged

By The Associated Press

SALISBURY, Md.—It's official now: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mason are living in a "shantrailer," and have to put license tags on their home here.

City Solicitor Harry H. Cropper took a look at the Mason residence the other day and came up with this verdict:

"I would say it's a 'shantrailer.' That's a cross between a shanty and a trailer." He ruled that the Masons would have to take out a trailer license.

City officials pondered a week over the question. The Masons said their home was a portable cabin, minus wheels. County assessment records listed it as a house. City Plumbing Inspector William E. Neal called it a trailer. Solicitor Cropper agreed, and that settled it.

Anna Marie Hahn, convicted Cincinnati slayer, who was granted an indefinite postponement of her execution which had been set for March 10, was spending her time in the Ohio penitentiary writing her life history which she planned to give to her 12-year-old son in hopes it would benefit him financially.

An explosion of gasoline in the city sewer mains near the sewage disposal plant and a resultant fire caused damage estimated at between $9,000 and $17,000.

The ritualistic team of Marion Lodge No. 32, B. P. O. Elks, placed fourth in a state contest held at Columbus. TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, April 3, 1928.

Gray Chapel at Delaware was thronged when last rites were held for Senator Frank B. Willis. Scriptural selections found marked in a small Testament Senator Willis carried were read by Dr. Otto Scott Steele, pastor of the Asbury M. E. church, and the funeral sermon was preached by Dr. Albert Edwin Smith president of Ohio Northern university, where Senator Willis was both a student and teacher.

To take care of increased volume of business the Commercial Steel Castings Co. started work on an addition to its main factory building.

Mrs. C. H. Norris was elected president of the Burroughs Nature club at a meeting at the home of Mrs. C. H. Conley on Girard avenue. Miss Edith Keeler, vice president and Miss Vedith Babo, secretary-treasurer were the other officers named.

Mrs. J. T. Matthews, Mrs. Arvey of Chicago for a winner is more consistent. Bosses are never bothered with radical ideas. They never make any pretense about their objective. They live by winning elections.

Moreover, the Southern leaders who want to drop Truman might well welcome Eisenhower. In the main, their bent is conservative, and there is no reason to believe Eisenhower is radical. But the clamor for Eisenhower is not a distinctive part of the southern movement. The south is willing to lose for the sake of its convictions.

Born of Desperation

The draft-Eisenhower affair is a strange movement born of desperation, not logic. Can anyone believe that a sane man would refuse an almost certain nomination on an almost certainly successful ticket and then accept nomination by a party that is failing to pieces and facing defeat? Could a man, in Hamlet's phrase, leave this fair mountain and bat-ten on that moor?

There would be no assurance that Eisenhower, popular as he is, could win on a Democratic ticket. He would be confronted by many deadly questions. What faction of the party would he favor? The differences now are irreconcilable. Would he pledge himself to the uncompleted social program of Roosevelt and Truman? How could he favor the civil rights program, when several pages of the report of the President's committee are devoted to discrimination in the Army of which he was head?

Make a Crusade

Of course, the Eisenhower boomers are counting on turning the whole campaign into a save-the-world crusade. Eisenhower would be suitable as a mask for that appeal. It would enable New Deal Democrats to cover all their failures on the domestic front with the cloak of patriotism. The strategy of 1940 and 1944 would be reenacted.

Eisenhower has now made clear that his answer to the Republicans applies to all parties. But busy New Dealers will still try to discover hidden hope in his words.

MOLEY

The revival of the draft-Eisenhower movement is a choice piece of hypocrisy. The two Roosevelt boys know or ought to know that they have no reason to think Eisenhower believes in the so-called "objectives" of their late father. Nor do the members of the so-called "Liberal" party of New York, headed by A. A. Berle Jr., the most radical member of the 1932 Brains Trust, have any assurance of Eisenhower's views. But they want Eisenhower for no conceivable reason except that he stands high in the polls.

Idealists Just Job Holders

By Raymond Moley

THE test of a reformer is his capacity to sacrifice mere victory for his principles. Men like the elder LaFollette in the old Progressive days stood firm for their ideas, despite the fortunes of elections.

Those who profess attachment to the progressivism of the New Deal are of a different breed. Long tenure of power has made them just another crop of job-holders. They want to win, regardless of principle.

They are not looking for a candidate whose views they share. They want a candidate who can win. Never mind Truman's real but blundering support of all the nostrums they were promoting when F.D.R. died. Never mind Truman's support of the civil rights program that they have been clamoring about. He can't win, so he must be jettisoned.

Went by the Boards

By The Associated Press

DENVER—A Colorado farmer made a bank deposit of $17,000 but didn't report such income in his tax return. The internal revenue department asked why.

The farmer contended this money was no sudden windfall; he had been saving it in his basement for years. Every time he tucked away a little more, he said, he penciled the date and amount on pine boards leaning against the wall.

Could he produce the boards? Well, he'd sawed them up and made a kitchen cabinet out of them. Revenue agents took the cabinet apart, found the penciled memos true enough.

But this led to quite some revision of the farmer's earlier tax returns. The tax men suggested he keep an account book.

Models' Laboratory

BETHLEHEM, Pa. — Lehigh University has opened a models' laboratory. But this lab has no women in it. The only models are structural ones.

It is designed to provide facilities for instruction and research on new development projects in connection with a civil engineering degree.

Models of the Holston River and German Creek bridges in Tennessee and the Cleveland, O., Lakefront Ramp have been constructed.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Not for John Lewis

"JOHN L. LEWIS in first refusing to s... a session of President Truman's board... he was disinclined to attend because 'it is ... assumption that the cavilings of bench an... over the issues will consume a tedious time.' He referred to the dispute as this imbroglio." — News item.

Mere cavilings of bar and bench—
Just this and nothing more—
Are court proceedings of our land;
On them I'd shut the door;
The orderly routine of law
Conducted patiently
Are good enough for lots of men—
But not for men like me!

II

The thought of bothering about
A court annoys me much;
The bar and bench are not my style—
They lack the loud, blunt touch;
Our system for obtaining facts
Has not my sanction, chum;
I now decree this ancient way
Is far too tiresome.

III

A board's slow way is not for me;
I hold it very low
And now define a hearing as
A mere imbroglio;
The ancient legal patterns are
Distressing to a strong
Dictator type who always knows
That he can NOT be wrong!

IV

The dignified and careful course—
Discussion and debate,
With contemplating routines are
The sort of things I hate;
The tedium of fact finding—
Slow groping for the light—
Why should I bother when I know
That I am always right?

V

The bar and bench, they cram my style
Some people like them, but
I find that they've a tendency
To modify my strut;
Let others bow to proper forms
And do things legally—
I CANNOT BE ANNOYED BECAUSE I'M DISINCLINED, YOU SEE.

CAN YOU REMEMBER—

Away back when the Democrats had things their own way?

Speaking of that supreme court decision that a law on the books since 1884 to protect the King against crime magazines is unconstitutional, we know a youngster who silenced the old man pretty promptly last night. "How can you and I be sure what's bad for me, popper?" he demanded. "It took the court 64 years to find out."

We hear that when Governor Dewey signed that bill permitting New York to do what it likes about its subway fares, Mayor O'Dwyer started shuttling in all directions.

Gus Asked For It

By TRUMAN TWILL

This fellow named Gus Barbush who has bought a town called Langeloth, in Pennsylvania—he's really asking for it.

He is an immigrant who made good in the country over a period of 33 years. When the manufacturing concern that owned nearly all of Langeloth decided to close the plant which employed most of the local folks, Gus put up enough security and face to float a $200,000 bank loan and bought the works. Now what?

The fact Gus could get that kind of loan on a defunct plant is pretty good proof he doesn't have any holes in his head. He probably knows what he's doing, or at least has the odds in his favor on paying back the $200,000. But there are a lot of angles to running a town. Langeloth has some 3,000 Americans in it, for one thing.

They'll want the streets kept in apple pie condition and the trash collected. They'll be finicky about garbage pickup service, the condition of the sidewalks and the kind of police and fire protection they do and don't get. They'll complain about unusual noises and odors and public nuisances. Unless Langeloth is a lot different from the ordinary run of towns its citizens will look at Gus Barbush with a cold and critical eye for all the things he isn't doing for their comfort and happiness, now that he's in charge of things.

His plan, he says, is to run a good town. A good town is like a good guy—it depends on who does the judging. To some it means a town that's wide open and roaring every night. To others it means a town that's sedate and lily-white. Still others want a little of each. Every town in the U.S.A. is a good town to someone, and there are some mighty bad towns in the U.S.A.

But Gus has a chance to start from scratch, which is unusual. He can run Langeloth to suit himself. He owns it. A lot of people will be interested in a setup like that. They will give Gus plenty of advice, and that will be a problem because when he doesn't take it—and he can't take all of it—they'll be against him. They'll call him pigheaded. Agitators will romp on the hair, and folks with a broad social point of view will charge him with paternalism. Heaven help the poor guy if he expects his adopted community to make a hero of him because he runs the town. They'll expect Gus to perform miracles single-handed and if he makes a fair job of it they'll put up a statue of him after he's dead if they can afford it. That's the way it's done in the U.S.A.—long may it rave!

Britain Eating Its Farm Horses

By The Associated Press

LONDON—Breeders will see to it that the Suffolk Punch and Percheron are spared, but the dobbins in England's eastern counties are finding their way in increasing numbers to the dinner table.

Every week 200 farm horses in East Anglia are being slaughtered and sent to the big cities to provide off-the-ration meat, the National Farmers' Union estimates.

The farmers say if the killings go on at that rate, wagon and plow horses will be as rare as the red deer." Work horses are sold as meat for human consumption for $200 each.

Post-Easter Season Draws Attention of Local Churches

Following celebration of the resurrection festival of Easter, the ministers of churches and congregations is turned in the post-Easter sermons to enlarging on the spiritual benefits derived from the contemplation of the season of Lent and triumph of Easter day. Five Sundays intervened between it and Ascensiontide, and it was during this period of forty days after His resurrection that Christ remained on earth giving Himself to His followers before His ascension to Heaven, the Gospels relate. Ascension day is observed always on Thursday, and this year falls on May 6.

Pastors of many churches will preach special sermons tomorrow morning, taking up the thought of the resurrection Christ and the significance or "afterglow" of the Easter season. In its wake, some churches have launched special evangelistic crusades and campaigns, and others have arranged special instruction series for those desiring to come into the membership of the church. A service of confirmation will be conducted at St. Paul's Episcopal church.

Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church tomorrow night, Rev. W. W. Faulkner, pastor, will begin a series of six consecutive sermons on "Christian Fundamentals." Members of the church are invited to hear these discussions, as well as those who are anticipating church membership, it was stated. The series is especially timed for the latter, however. Morning worship hour tomorrow will include mixed quarterly communion service.

Trinity Baptist church has launched its Cooperative Crusade of Evangelism, along with other churches of the Marion Baptist association, and has as its assisting "crusader," Rev. George Riley, director of evangelism for the Detroit Baptist Mission society. He will speak at the morning worship hour tomorrow. The Young People's Fellowship has arranged a New Friends for Christ program for this weekend, with Miss Joyce Wintringham as general chairman. A visiting evangelistic team representing the Ohio Baptist Youth Fellowship includes Miss Carolyn Hoyt of Tiffin, and Miss Yvonne Barrett and Marvin Losie, both of Toledo. Trinity church will be host church for meetings for the entire association tomorrow afternoon and Monday night.

Sermon Topics

Emanuel Lutheran, "Peace Be Unto You."

Epworth Methodist, "Stamina To Carry Through."

Calvary Evangelical United Brethren, "The Christian's Living Hope," and "God."

Salem Evangelical and Reformed, "Crying for God."

Oakland Evangelical United Brethren, "Spiritual Heartburn," and "Costly Deliverance."

St. Paul English Lutheran, "Witnesses of the Resurrection."

Wesley Methodist, "The Extraordinary Power of Intercessory Prayer" and "The Cruelty of Sinning."

Emmanuel Baptist, "The Epistle to the Hebrews," and "Nations Bought and Sold."

First Pilgrim Holiness, "Enduring Grace."

Revival Continues

Revival services at First Church of the Nazarene, in charge of Rev. J. E. Williams of Pasadena, Calif., will continue tonight, tomorrow and through April 11, Rev. W. E. Zimmerman, pastor, announced. Tonight, the sermon subject will be "Is Holiness Necessary?" tomorrow morning, "The End of the Rainbow," and tomorrow night, "The Question That God Cannot Answer." The evening message will be broadcast over radio station WMRN. Special music will be heard at each service. Day meetings are being held at the church at 10 a. m. during the campaign.

Maranatha Services

After Sunday school services of the Maranatha Bible church and Christian and Missionary Alliance congregation tomorrow morning, the two churches will unite for worship service at the Maranatha church as a part of the special revival effort being sponsored jointly by them, Rev. Earl L. Holliday, Maranatha pastor, announced. Rev. Tom Presnell of Marion is the evangelist for the services. At 2:30 p. m. there will be a service, at which time the message will be on "The Anti-Christ Is Here," and at the evening hour, "Scriptural Proof That Hitler Is Alive." Special music will include singing by a trio from Mansfield composed of Misses Dorothy Nash, Phyllis Stahl and Jaqueline Hurley. This group has done considerable Youth for Christ musical work from time to time. Music director for the meetings is Rev. David Winzierl, pastor of the Missionary Alliance church.

Tonight, Rev. Presnell's topic will be "Are Social Concidions Indicative of the End of the Age?" An organ and trombone duet will be by Patty Holliday and Morris Fix, and Mrs. Helen Fix will sing a solo. Friday night's message was on "The Grace of God." The evangelist stated, "The only way to understand the grace of God is to see God's mercy in action. His grace is mercy towards us when we deserve the opposite. It is as fathomless to understand as its extension to mankind."

To Give Book Review

A variation in type of message presented will be introduced by Dr. Edwin A. Brown, pastor of Wesley Methodist church, at the morning worship hour tomorrow when he gives a review of the book, "Prayer the Mightiest Force in the World" by Dr. Frank Laubach. Stressed will be the "extraordinary" power of "intercessory" prayer. Dr. Brown will preach at the evening worship service, and the New Life meetings of the church will be continued at the midweek service hour.

* * *

AT LARUE RALLY—Rev. H. Max Good of Soul's Harbor, Columbus, and his tabernacle staff will appear at the Youth for Christ rally at LaRue Tuesday night. The meeting will be held in the Methodist church at 8 o'clock. Special music will be by the Tabernacle trio and other staff members. The meeting will be open to the public, it was announced.

Choir To Sing

The Harding High school a cappella choir will sing at Epworth Methodist church morning worship tomorrow. Dr. V. E. Bueler, pastor, will preach. For their numbers the choir will sing "'Tis the Evening's Holy Hour," Beethoven, "Almighty God of Our Fathers" and "Dark Water," both by James, and "The Lord Bless You," Lutkin. The organist's selections will be "Prelude to Act 3" from "Lohengrin," Wagner, "Song of an Angel," DeLorme-Archer, and "The Walk to Emmaus," Frysinger. L. G. Jones, public school music supervisor, is director of the Harding High choir.

* * *

To Attend Rally

Delegations from two Marion churches of the denomination will attend a synod rally of the Evangelical and Reformed church at Tiffin tomorrow afternoon and night. Congregational Christian church leaders will take part in the event. Youth Fellowships of the Northwest Ohio synod will have on their program recreation, a box lunch supper, showing of a sound motion picture film of religious emphasis, "Beyond Our Own," and a closing dedication service. Time of the rally will be 3 p. m. to 9:30, and the event will be held in Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church of Tiffin.

* * *

Church Briefs

A series of messages on the book of Hebrews will be given by Dr. C. E. Hershey, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist church, for the next few Sunday morning services, beginning tomorrow. He has requested those attending to take Bibles along to the services.

At the Mt. Zion Baptist church tomorrow morning, Rev. Milton Lashley of the Quinn Chapel A. M. E. church will preach. The service will be at 11 o'clock.

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday. It will have for the Golden Text: "Let not him that is deceived trust in vanity; for vanity shall be his recompence" (Job 15:31).

BISHOP BEVERLY D. TUCKER

Episcopal Bishop To Preach Here Sunday

Rt. Rev. Beverly D. Tucker, D.D., bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Ohio, will visit St. Paul's church here tomorrow. He will preach at the 10:45 a. m. service, at which time a class of 12 will be presented to him by St. Paul's rector, Rev. F. W. Leech, for confirmation into full membership of the Episcopal church. Following the service, there will be a reception in St. Paul's parish house for members of the church to greet the newly confirmed members and the bishop.

Bishop Tucker, who will celebrate the tenth anniversary of his consecration as Bishop of Ohio late this spring, has jurisdiction over the northern half of Ohio for the Episcopal church. His headquarters are in Cleveland. Marion is one of the most southerly cities in the diocese.

BAPTISTS LAUNCH EVANGELISM CRUSADE

All Churches in Marion Association To Cooperate.

A Cooperative Crusade of Evangelism, sponsored by churches of the Marion Baptist association, was launched at the various churches Friday night to continue through April 11. Among state workers assisting in the movement, in this area for the 10-day period, is Rev. J. W. Poorman of Granville, director of evangelism for the Ohio Baptist convention. Youth groups of the churches have arranged a New Friends for Christ program for the week-end, with evangelistic teams of young people from other places throughout the state taking part. Invitations have been given a large number of young people in the vicinity of each church to attend social affairs at the churches tonight. Visitation teams called at homes Friday night and this afternoon. Special programs of youth interest have been planned in the churches Sunday morning and night.

A training conference for adult and youth visitation teams will be held in the Trinity Baptist church on Sunday at 2:30 p. m. An evangelistic rally will be held on Monday night in the Trinity church. Dr. G. Pitt Beers, executive secretary of the Northern Baptist Home Mission society, New York City, will speak.

Rev. Poorman shares with Dr. Beers the responsibility of directing the local campaign and is serving as the visiting "crusader" at the Ostrander Baptist church. Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor of the Trinity Baptist church, is chairman of the area committee in working out local arrangements. Rev. Robert Maugans, pastor of the Fitz Memorial church, Marion, is chairman of publicity, and Rev. Lester R. Kidd, pastor of the Green Camp Baptist church, is chairman of the committee to arrange speaking engagements with outside organizations. H. T. Gracely is chairman of the finance committee and Mrs. T. O. McClure is chairman of the arrangements committee. Rev. Donald Hobbs, pastor of the Richwood Baptist church, is chairman of the enrollment committee, and Rev. A. O. Long, pastor of the Prospect Baptist church, is chairman of the transportation committee.

After Easter, What?

A Sermonette

By REV. W. E. ZIMMERMAN

Pastor of First Church of the Nazarene

* * *

"And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us while He talked with us by the way, and while He opened to us the Scripture?" Luke 24:32.

* * *

IT HAS become more or less a religious custom for folk during lent and at Easter to become a little more religious. On Easter most churches are filled to overflowing. A wonderful sight! Would not it be wonderful if it were that way the whole year through? Does the Lord expect us to be more religious around Easter than at any other time of the year? Does the Lord have one standard of religion for us during lent then another standard for us after Easter? Can we bring enough favor upon us by our self denial preceding Easter to atone for indulgence after Easter?

Let us take a look at the early church and see what took place with them following that first Resurrection morning. We find that Jesus was appearing to them and trying to get to their hearts. Two of the disciples were out for a walk. And Jesus came and walked with them. At first they did not know Him. But before long they recognized Him and after He vanished from them they knew it was Christ, for they said, "Did not our heart burn within us while He walked with us and opened to us the Scriptures?" At every opportunity Jesus was slipping into their presence and revealing Himself unto them. He slipped through the closed door and showed His wounded hands and pierced side to doubting Thomas. He got to Peter's heart down by the sea shore at the fish breakfast. His last words to His disciples were, "Tarry Ye in Jerusalem until ye be endued with power from high." They tarried. Pentecost came. The Holy Ghost was given unto them. They came down from the upper room filled with the Holy Ghost.

They began witnessing, preaching and soon thousands were turning to the Lord. No time for indulgence for this crowd who had caught a glimpse of the resurrected Christ.

Now back to our question, "After Easter, What?" Shall Easter be the climax of the year with a great letdown following? Or shall we make Easter a great inspiration that shall send us on to Pentecost, then out to a lost and dying world with the message of salvation? Shall it be onward and upward with the early church or shall it be backward and downward with a great letdown with the modern church?

BIBLE CLASS MEETS

The Loyalty Bible class of Forest Lawn Presbyterian church met Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Walt Roberts of 423 South Grand avenue. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Blanche Metz, and the lesson study was presented by Mrs. Albert Wills, Mrs. Earl Moore, Mrs. Gene Winters and Miss Elma Church. Mrs. Kenneth Riley, in charge of the program, read a poem and conducted a contest which was won by Mrs. Winters. Readings were given by Mrs. Agnes Starner and Mrs. William Converse, and honors in contests conducted by Mrs. Ralph Clutter went to Mrs. Metz, Mrs. Winters, Mrs. Albert Wills and Mrs. Riley. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Homer Hartpence and Mrs. Willis Stewart.

CAREY ALUMNI DATE SET

CAREY—The annual dance of the Carey High school alumni association will be held Friday night, May 28, at the school. Chairmen include Miss Ruth Riester, Mrs. George Snyder, Mrs. Richard Frederick, Mrs. Forest Myers and George Newhard.

SERVICES CONTINUE — Revival meetings at First Church of Christ in Christian Union will continue through April 11, in charge of Rev. Grayson Ferguson, above, and music evangelists, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peters of Circleville. Special singing will be presented each night, and services will be at 7:30, Rev. Melvin Truex, pastor, announced.

Car-Port Helps Cut Building Cost

In these days of high-cost building, the garage is often left out of the initial building programs; and many small homes lack the convenience and the benefit which the average garage offers as a shelter for the car, a storage space and a work center. The fact that many of the new homes are of the basementless, one-story type, makes the lack of the ordinary garage storage space more keenly felt as the small house does not have room for much more than ordinary closet-space.

A garage with an overhead door or a double-leaf door; and with four walls, roof, and one or two windows, is not a small item to pay for. A car-port, on the other hand, is a very economical item, and a very easy thing to build yourself or have built for you. In most cases it can easily be built against one wall of the house, and it will provide a great deal of the convenience presented by the full garage. If good, common sense is used in the location, so that the two walls of the port face the direction from which storms usually come, the car-port will be as effective as most complete garages.

A car-port consists of a two-walled shelter covered by a flat, sloping roof. The roof keeps rain, snow and sleet off the car, and when it is properly oriented or weather-wise located, it acts as a wind-break and shelter. As an example, if you live along the Atlantic coast, where most bad storms come from the north or east, the two walls of the car-port should face north and east. There are no doors or windows in a car-port. If the port is built along-side the house, you automatically acquire three walls.

When all is said and done; an unheated, unlined garage is not much warmer than the outdoors after a cold night, but you are able to lock it up. You cannot lock a car-port, but you can get almost every other convenience out of it.

As far as appearance goes; the car-port can be attractive if you arrange the slope of the roof and the exterior finish property.

THE GARDEN CLINIC

Q: There is an old elm tree in the front yard where we recently built our new home. A couple of years ago a fire went through and burned it quite badly. Since that time, the bark loosened from the trunk on one side, for 20 feet from the ground in a strip about two feet wide. If there is anything I could do to prolong the life of the tree I would certainly be willing to try it. Any information would be appreciated.

A: There are two things that I would suggest you do to your elm. First, cut off all the dead or loose bark and paint the exposed wood with asphalt tree paint. Then, I would fertilize the tree. To do this use five pounds of a 4-12-4 or a 4-12-8 fertilizer for each one inch of trunk diameter. A 10-inch tree would take about 50 pounds of fertilizer. Put this in holes punched with a crowbar. It is easy to do this while the ground is moist and soft. Make holes 12 to 15 inches deep and 18 inches apart. Put the holes from the trunk out to the far end of branch spread and then go a third of this distance beyond spread of branches. Distribute the fertilizer evenly in the holes.

* * *

Q: Can you give me any information concerning the growing of peonies. I have some nice plants and each year they have lots of nice buds, but at a certain size, they stop growing and turn brown. I tried spraying with bordeaux mixture. Also, I thought perhaps the buds got frosted in early spring so I covered them each night until danger of frost was over. All this did no good.

A: There is a pretty good possibility that your penoies are not producing flowers although they do have buds due to the fact that you planted them too deeply or that they are in too much shade or in competition with too many tree roots. They should not have the crowns or buds more than two inches beneath the surface. You will also find that poor drainage, particularly during the last three springs, has interfered with proper blooming.

* * *

Q: Would you kindly tell me whether to prune some rather large box or taxus now or when growth begins? They are approximately four feet wide and high.

A: Unless your boxwood needs pruning, I would leave it alone. If it does need it you can do it anytime between now and when growth starts. The taxus or yew can be pruned anytime before growth starts. They usually require rather severe pruning to keep them bushy and compact. Long branches may have to be pruned back anywhere from a foot to possibly as much as three feet. Generally a yew can be pruned much more severely than other evergreens and still grow out and give a well shaped plant.

* * *

Q: How important is ultra violet light to the growth of plants? In other words, in providing artificial light for forcing plants in the winter and late spring, should one use or could one use successfully an ultra violet bulb?

A: Ultra violet light is not necessary for the growth of plants. Since ordinary greenhouse glass does not transmit ultra violet light, plants grown under glass therefore would not receive any. Since tomatoes and ornamental plants have been grown under glass quite successfully for a good many years we think that is pretty good proof. As far as the use of ultra violet light for forcing is concerned, it is not necessary either.

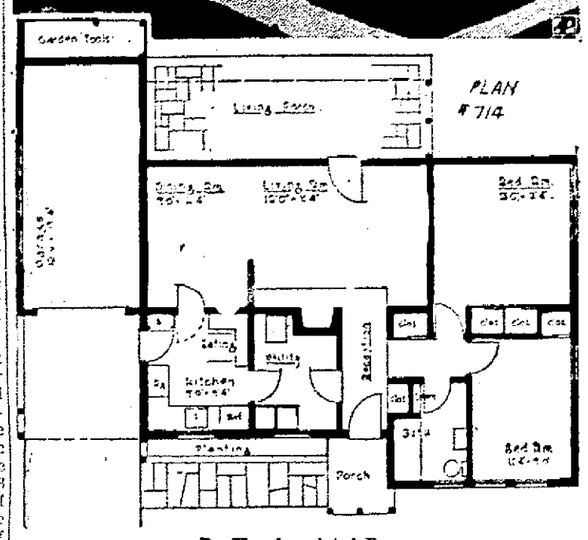
* * *

Q: Do primroses do well in muck soil? How long does it take for the seeds to germinate?

A: I believe you will find that primroses will do better in a good loose garden soil than in a muck soil. I would suggest that you mix about one part peat or rotted leaves and two parts soil.

The germination of the seed will vary tremendously with the age of the seed. Fresh collected seed from your own garden will sometimes germinate in two weeks, seldom longer than a month. Commercial seed that you buy will take from one month to three months and often longer. If you have seed on hand now I would sow it out-of-doors in a cold frame immediately to get the plants up and started before hot weather. I would grow the plants under partial shade at all times.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS



By The Associated Press

A HOME FOR THE BUDGETEER is what the architect, Walter T. Anicka of Ann Arbor, Mich., calls this Plan No. 714. The house covers an area of only 938 square feet, but it contains a combination living-dining room that is 25 feet long and more than 11 feet wide. A basement can be included by planning a stairway in the utility room. This also would leave space for expanding the kitchen and providing a breakfast nook. The architect suggests gray shingle exterior walls, siding or brick with white trim, a yellow entrance door and a roof of colored asphalt shingles.

Reports on Army Day At Committee Meeting

The Military Advisory committee of Marion held its monthly luncheon meeting Wednesday at the Marion Hotel. Col. R. E. Copeland gave a brief summary of the Army Day parade lineup, and Lt. Chester Crim of Fostoria, recruiting officer, told the committee of the exhibits and displays to be shown in Marion on Army Day. A broadcast over Station WMRN in keeping with Army Day was discussed and John Mills explained the program to be presented. Recruiting problems were discussed with Mr. Mills and Sgt. Loren Brandon of the U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting office in charge. Guests and new members were introduced by John Mills.

SEABEE VETERANS TO MEET APRIL 5

Members of Local Association Being Enrolled.

A meeting of the Marion chapter of the Seabee Veterans association will be held April 5 at 8 p. m. in the V.F.W. hall at the rear of the courthouse, club officials announced today.

A charter for the two-month old organization has been applied for and all persons attending meetings prior to May will be considered charter members.

"Now hear this...Now hear this"—in the vernacular of the old salts—and uttered by Seabee Skipper Harold Haughn, "all Seabee veterans in the Marion area invited to attend the muster and make new and renew old acquaintances."

The club's complement, or ship's personnel, is insufficient to date, and all members are encouraged to enlist new crewmen. Present members are asked to bring a shipmate and help get the organization under way.

Two moving pictures, "Byrd's Antarctic Expedition," and "The Fleet That Came to Stay" will be shown.

IBERIA SCHOOL STUDENT DISTRICT SPEECH WINNER

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, April 3—Beverly Worster of Iberia High school won first place in the Future Farmers of America district Eight public speaking contest held last night at Cardington. Worster won first place on a unanimous decision of the judges.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Worster of near Iberia, Beverly is a junior in the Iberia High school. He chose as his topic "Conserving Morrow County Soils."

Worster competed with nine other entrants from the district. Richard Poland, a freshman from Mt. Gilead who spoke on "The Farmer and Wildlife," and Arthur Ebert, a freshman from Cardington who spoke on "Safety on the Farm," were the only other entrants from the county.

Twenty-one schools in district Eight were eligible to participate in the contest. Ted Disbennett of Leesburg won second place and Ronald Jackson of Union Local (Hyatts) was third.

On March 12 Worster won the county F.F.A. speaking contest held at Mt. Gilead High school. He was also a member of the Iberia high F.F.A. parliamentary procedure team which received a gold award and the highest numerical score at the District parliamentary procedure contest held at Marysville on March 24.

Worster's teacher is R. S. Beard of Mt. Gilead who has charge of the agricultural courses in the Iberia and Mt. Gilead schools.

On June 3 and 4 Worster will compete with 17 other district winners in the state contest to be held in Columbus.

Your Good Health

When the Baby Is Teething

Some years ago, almost any upset during the toothcutting period was attributed to teething. Later, an exactly opposite view was adopted. Teething, it was believed, caused no disturbance of any kind and never made a baby sick.

Today, a middle-of-the-road idea, more in keeping with the actual facts, prevails. There is some evidence that teething can indeed upset an infant. At the same time we realize the need to guard against assigning every disturbance occuring at this time to this cause. Mothers, especially should understand this, because there are a good many more serious disorders which cause similar symptoms. If they are dismissed simply as teething, the child may become very ill indeed before the doctor is called.

For example, a child with severe tonsillitis will rarely complain of sore throat. The only symptoms may be loss of appetite, irritability, and fever, all of which may also be caused by teething. Thus, the only safe thing to do is to call the doctor. If tonsillitis is present, his examination of the throat will quickly reveal it.

Then, too, baby can have quite a severe inflammation of the nose and throat without any noticeable discharge from the nose to put the mother on guard. If this infection gets into the middle ear, as often happens, fever irritability and, perhaps, diarrhea will result. But, unless the ears are examined and the inflammation of the middle ear discovered, the symptoms may be ascribed to teething and the baby will fail to get the treatment it so badly needs.

Another disorder in babies which is often neglected because the mother believes "he is only teething" is pyelitis or inflammation of the pelvis of the kidney. Here, once again, the classic symptoms — fever, vomiting and, sometimes, diarrhea—will be present and there may also be loss of appetite and loss of weight as the disease progresses.

There is a disorder known as roseola infantum, sometimes called pink disease or rose fever, which occurs in babies. It also causes restlessness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and irritability, and generally a very high fever. During its early stages the symptoms caused by this condition may be thought to come from teething.

All this is enough to show the need for an examination by the doctor of any child of teething age who becomes irritable or cross and has fever or other symptoms of illness even where they are not very severe.

Of course, teething may, on occasion, be responsible because pressure of the teeth against the gums may produce some inflammation in the gums and irritability in the child, together with sleeplessness, paleness, loss of appetite, drooling and sometimes slight fever.

However, if teething is actually responsible the symptoms will last only a few days and immediately disappear when the tooth comes through the gums.

Apparently no particular treatment is necessary in such cases. Lancing of the gums is rarely, if ever, required. Sometimes, it may be of value to give the child a mild sedative or quieting drug until the tooth causing the trouble comes through the gum, but the doctor will be the one to decide this.

Questions and Answers

R. D. F.: What causes a great deal of mucus in the bowel movement?

Answer: This condition is usually due to a disorder known as mucus colitis. It may be produced by any inflammation of the bowel. A careful study by a physician is advisable.

COUNTY ROADS PROGRAM SET

Drag Treatment Approved by Board; Engineer's Estimate of Cost $90,534.36.

Drag treatment of approximately 37 miles of roads in Marion county was approved Thursday by the county commissioners acting on the annual road program prepared by County Engineer Walter W. Johnson.

The engineer's estimate of cost for the work to be done this year is $90,534.36. The figure is nearly $20,000 more than was spent in 1947 for similar treatment of 43.7 miles of county roads.

High cost of materials over last year's figures was given by Johnson in explaining why it will cost the county more money this year to get a fewer number of road miles treated.

Sixteen county roads are scheduled for treatment with a total of 35.88 miles scheduled for re-drag and 1.92 miles for new drag which is conversion from stone to blacktop. Last year the county was able to provide new drag treatment for 11.74 miles of road and re-drag for an additional 32 miles.

County roads to be treated this year are: Marion-Williamsport road, (CR-162) section A; Hillman Ford road (CR-94) section C, West Fairground street (CR-175) section A and part of B; Kenton-Galion road (CR-66) sections B and C; DeCliff-Big Island road (CR-34) sections C through I; from Agosta north on CR-33, sections A and B.

Also, the Kenton-LaRue road (CR-14), sections B and C; LaRue-Mt. Victory road (CR-12) sections A, B and C; Centerville-Prospect road (CR-73) sections A, B and C; Owens road (CR-108) sections B, C, D and E; Smeltzer road (CR-107) section I.

Also, Marion-Cardington road (CR-136) section C; Newmans-Cardington road (CR-123) sections K through P; Salem road (CR-138), sections B, C, D and E; Martel road (CR-171), sections A through F and the Marseilles-Galion road (CR-28) section M and part of N. Sub-division extra work includes Section C of CR-120 and street in Newmans, all in Pleasant township.

GREEN CAMP SCHEDULE OF CRUSADE DATES SET

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP, April 3 — The local campaign in the "Crusade for Christ Through Evangelism," inaugurated by the Northern Baptist convention, will continue next week and through April 11 with the assistance of Rev. Ralph C. Zundel of Troy, O.

The campaign was lunched Friday night when three visiting youth leaders, Park Brown of Cleveland, Bettye Withers and Ida Mae Conn of Columbus met with the young people of the community. A meeting is scheduled for tonight and another at 6:30 p. m. Sunday.

Rev. Zundel will preach at both morning and evening services tomorrow, and also bring a message at the Wednesday night service.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 3 — Individual stocks did fairly well in today's market while many leaders exhibited notable indifference.

There was further profit cashing on the lengthy recovery. It was suggested that passage of the tax cut bill and European relief program may have been pretty well discounted marketwise.

Dealings were relatively quiet from the start. Fractional irregularity ruled near the final hour.

Ahead at intervals were Youngstown Sheet, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Dow Chemical, Paramount Pictures and Standard Oil (NJ).

Occasional laggards included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodrich, Goodyear, Kennecott, General Electric, U. S. Gypsum, Warner Bros., Twentieth Century-Fox, Mission Corp., Pennsylvania Railroad and Illinois Central.

GRAIN MARKET

Local Grain Market

(Producers Livestock Cooperative Association Quotations)

Friday price after 2 p. m.: Wheat 2.38; No. 3 white oats 1.10.

Range

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 3 — Grains opened a little lower on the board of trade today. The market was influenced by a continuation of the liquidation which got under way in the closing minutes yesterday. Early weakness in cotton was a depressing influence.

Wheat started unchanged to 1¼ lower, May $2.43-$2.43¼, corn was ½ cent to 1 cent lower, May $2.17½-¼, and oats were unchanged to ½ lower, May $1.11¾-½.

Chicago

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 3—Salable hogs 300 (estimated), total 800; compared week ago: all weights butchers and sows 1.00@1.50 lower.

Salable cattle 200 (estimated), total not given; compared week ago: receipts smaller than any week so far this year, hence, general price levels showed some improvement but market usually a forced affair in the face of weak to lower prices for dressed beef; steers 1,300 lbs. down 50 to 1.00 higher, heavier weights steady to 50 cents higher; heifers and sows 50 to 1.00 higher, bulls steady to 50 cents higher; vealers ran counter to the general trend and lost 1.00@2.00; top 31.00 for three loads choice 1,150-1,150 lb. fed steers, two loads high-choice 1,450 and 1,570 lb. heeves 30.50, but otherwise few heavy steers sold above 29.50, bulk good to choice fed steers 26.00@29.50, medium to low-good grades 23.00@25.75; good and choice fed heifers 25.00@28.50, load choice 1,050 lb. steers and heifers mixed 29.50; good beef cows 21.00@22.00, common and medium cows 17.25@20.50, bulk canners and cutters 13.00@17.00; good weighty bulls sold up to 24.00 but choice vealers topped late at 26.00 after having sold up to 28.00 sparingly early; six loads half-fat 977 lb. Montana steers 27.00 on feeder account but big end of the steer crop regardless of condition went for slaughter.

PREVIEWS OF COMING ATTRACTIONS AT THE THEATERS

Academy Winner At Ohio Theater

Academy Award-winning "Gentleman's Agreement," now playing through Tuesday at the Ohio theater, outspoken, accurate discussion of anti-semitism in [illegible] from Laura Z. Hobson's best-selling novel of the same name, "Gentleman's Agreement" features Gregory Peck, Dorothy McGuire and John Garfield. Elia Kazan, who was just recently selected the outstanding motion picture actress of the year, directed the supporting cast.

Gregory Peck is cast in the role of Phil Green, an ace magazine reporter, who gets into the most exciting adventure of his career when his editor assigns him to write a startling series of articles dealing with anti-semitism in America. At a party given by his fiancee, Phil meets Kathy Lacy, played by Dorothy McGuire, the editor's niece, who had originally suggested the subject of the articles to Phil.

Then Phil finally hits upon the idea for his articles. He decides to live as a Jew until he thoroughly understands the problem. However, the insults which he encounters when he starts to act on his plan slowly begin to get on his nerves and almost completely changes his whole life and his relationship with the one woman he loves.

Opening Friday to run for four days will be "A Slight Case of Murder" starring Edward G. Robinson.

Spotlighting gangsterism and racketeering, the film casts Robinson as an ex-beer runner who decides to go legitimate and become a high-grade brewer. However his former pals move into his Saratoga residence and set off a riotous shooting brawl. Young romance is also involved when Robinson's young daughter falls in love with a cop.

"Road To Rio" At Marion Theater

"Road to Rio," which co-stars Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour in this their newest travel-laugh film, will be the main attraction of the double feature to be shown Sunday through Tuesday at the Marion theater.

Bing and Bob are cast as a couple of irresponsible musicians who find it necessary to stow away on board a luxury ship bound for Rio. Their adventures on shipboard and in Rio revolve about their endeavors to free Dorothy Lamour from plotting of her guardian who wants to get her hands on Dotty's fortune.

Completing the billing will be "Trail of the Mounties" starring Russell Hayden.

Wednesday and Thursday, the double feature will be "Call It Murder" and "Racketeers." The former stars Humphrey Bogart, and heading the cast in the latter are Preston Foster and Melvyn Douglas.

Another adventure yarn in the exciting "Durango Kid" series entitled "Six-Gun Law," will highlight the attractions for Friday and Saturday.

Starring Charles Starrett and Smiley Burnette, this Western adventure casts Starret as a rancher, against a town big-shot jealous of the rancher's reputation for honesty among the citizens. Starrett soon finds himself accused of murder and implicated in a bank robbery, but then the Durango Kid comes riding and he clears his name and forces the outlaw to confess his crimes.

Second film in the double feature will be "Born To Speed" starring Johnny Sands and Terry Austin with Don Castle, Frank Orth, Geraldine Wall and Joe Haworth.

"The Killers" Booked at State

"The Killers," starring Ava Gardner and Albert Dekker, and "Sunset Pass" with James Warren and Nan Leslie will be shown Sunday and Monday at the State theater.

Billed as a double feature for Tuesday and Wednesday are "White Tie and Tails" and "Millie's Daughter." The former stars William Bendix and Ella Raines, and heading the cast in the latter are Gladys George and Gay Nelson.

John Garfield and Priscilla Lane are starred in the film, "Dust Be My Destiny," which will be the main attraction of a double feature Thursday through Saturday. Completing the billing will be "Marshall of Gunsmoke" starring Tex Ritter.

Dick Powell Stars In Palace Picture

"To the Ends of the Earth," co-starring Dick Powell and Signe Hasso and filled with suspense and thrills, will be shown Sunday through Wednesday at the Palace theater. The authentic incidents in the film are based on hitherto secret files of the U. S. Treasury's Bureaus of Narcotics, Coast Guard and Customs. It reveals for the first time the operations of a world-wide crime ring that did a billion dollar business in evil.

Dick Powell portrays a tough, hard-hitting government agent engaged in trailing the shadowy Japanese captain of a slave-ship. In Shanghai, Powell learns that his quarry is but one link in a criminal syndicate operating on a global basis. As the gang's conspiracy is revealed to him, Powell encounters government operatives of other countries and they pool their efforts to break the ring. Signe Hasso is seen as a fascinating Occidental in the mysterious Orient who keeps Powell guessing as to her relations with the smuggling gang.

Maylia, a lovely Chinese newcomer to the screen, has the chief supporting role.

Thursday at the Palace, will be the annual concert by the Harding High school orchestra.

A double feature, "Relentless" starring Robert Young and Marguerite Chapman, and "Prince of the Thieves" with Jon Hall, has been billed for Friday and Saturday.

"Relentless" is a rousing drama of the Old West and tells of relentless pursuit and deadly encounter. Robert Young portrays a happy-go-lucky wanderer whose entire life is changed as a result of a murder frame-up. He becomes a desperate fugitive fleeing for his life, and then, in turn, becomes the pursuer of the man who framed him. Marguerite Chapman befriends Young and then aids him in his battle for his life.

In addition to Young and Miss Chapman, Willard Parker, as an honest sheriff and Akim Tamiroff, playing an unscrupulous gambler, have the chief supporting roles.

Y'S MEN HEAR "GLOVES" REPORT

Plan Annual Housecleaning of Club Co-ed.

Various committee reports were given and plans were discussed for future events at the weekly meeting of the Y's Men's Service club Thursday night in the varsity room at the Y. M. C. A.

Richard Myers, president, reported on the recent Golden Gloves tournament and expressed his appreciation for the cooperation shown. Joe Yannitel gave a report on the State A.A.U. Golden Gloves tournament held recently in Toledo in which six of the Marion district champions participated.

Russell Simmons, chairman of Club Co-ed, announced plans for the annual housecleaning project of the young peoples' club rooms at the Y. M. C. A. The cleaning will be in anticipation of the anniversary to be held early in May.

Plans were made to the club to be in charge of the concession stand at the fairgrounds again this year during the summer racing program, and it was voted not to sponsor a model airplane meet in the 1948 season.

Paul Dowler presented a committee's recommendation for a club insignia and club pin, the original design and sketch of which were made by Rupert Brown.

Karl Bechtle and John Holliday were introduced as new members. Guests were Richard McCormick of Marion and Elmer Compton of Columbus, a past president of the club.

W.S.C.S. Meets At Methodist Church

A meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Prospect Street Methodist church was held Thursday afternoon at the church. Mrs. John Dietsch, president, presided and Mrs. Closs Musgrave conducted devotions on the subject, "Restorer of Paths."

Reports of committees were given for the month of March. 52 calls were reported and a total of 54 cards were reported sent to shut-ins. The program topic, "People of Poland," was presented by Mrs. Henry Mang.

A memorial service for Mrs. Katherine Wilhelm, a member who died recently, was given by Mrs. Dietsch. Mrs. Noah Weaver presented a vocal solo, "God Understands," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Harry Seiter, and a reading, "Weeping and Waiting Is Not Enough," was given by Mrs. Dietsch.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Dietsch, Mrs. Nettie Hecker, Mrs. Fred Hecker and Mrs. Merle Hughes.

Hamilton Catholic and Findlay Battle Way To Today's Finals in State A Cage Tourney

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio Associated Press Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., April 3—Hamilton Catholic vs. Findlay in class A, and Eaton vs. Lima St. Rose in class B.

That's the schedule for today's climactic contests in Ohio's 26th annual high school basketball championship tourney—and you need more than a crystal ball to name the new wearers of the crowns.

As expected, Hamilton Catholic defeated Coshocton 57 to 55 in yesterday's semi-finals, and unbeaten Findlay turned back Canton South 41-35, but neither class A victor had much to brag about.

Hamilton Catholic, in winning its 27th in 28 starts against the Coshocton Redskins who had lost five of 24 previous games, was forced to resort to a stalling game when the rampant Redskins moved up to within two points with less than two minutes to go.

Redskins Were Underdogs

The Coshoctons, decided underdogs to the rangy, ball-controlling Catholic lads, led 14-13 at the half, but never quite caught up after Gene Smith of the Rams dropped a pair of free throws to launch the last half.

Hamilton piled up 19 points in the third period to take a 46-40 edge, but the Redskins came on strong in the late going and forced the Hamiltons to stall their way to victory.

Carl Call, Coshocton's fine forward, led the scoring with 21 points, and Hamilton guard Jim Holstein was second with 17. Control of the rebounds by Hamilton's George Schmitt and Gene Smith really decided the issue.

Hamilton scored on 23 of 77 shots from the field for a 28.5 percentage, while Coshocton had a 32.2 mark with 20 "hits" in 62 tries.

Gave Trojans Scare

The Canton South boys tossed a big scare into Findlay, but the Trojans, making their seventh bid for the state finals, finally pulled out their 26th straight win. All the other Findlay jaunts to the state meet have fallen short of the title, although the Trojans reached the finals in 1936, losing to Newark.

Findlay, working like a well-oiled machine, outscored the nervous Canton team 12 to 4 in each of the first two periods, and the 24-8 half-time margin looked as big as a mountain.

But the proteges of Coach Charles E. (Red) Ash came storming out for the third period, scoring 14 points while holding the baffled Trojans to a single free throw, and went into the final session only three points back, 22-25.

A free throw by Roger Baker, Canton center, and a field goal by Francis Harbold, substitute forward, tied the score in the first minute of the final quarter.

All-Ohio guard Al Steegman dropped two more free throws to put Findlay out front, 27-25, and Joe Fassett's long fielder gave the Trojans a four-point edge, which they held down the stretch.

Led Scoring

Bob Moore, lefthanded forward for Findlay, led the scoring with 14 points, six of which came in the final surge that kept the Findlay club in the championship race.

Baker, six-foot, three-inch center, led the Canton team with 10 points. But Canton still suffered its second loss in 25 games.

Tight defenses featured the game all the way. Each club took 53 shots from the field. Findlay made good on 18 and Canton 13.

Yesterday's two class A games drew a total of 13,050 fans, boosting the two-day tournament total for four semi-final contests to 22,274.

Cage Coaches May Steal Spotlight

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 3—Ohio High school basketball coaches may steal some thunder from the annual cage tournament when they get together today.

Persistent rumors say the coaches' association will adopt two resolutions.

One, reportedly, will demand re-alignment of basketball tournament districts.

The other, it was indicated, will ask that football carry its share of financing the high school athletic association program.

As things now stand, the high school association's program is supported entirely by receipts from the state basketball tournament. Some 500 class "B" schools, who have no football because they aren't large enough, thus pay—through basketball—to support football. Or at least, that's the way several coaches feel.

* * *

There was a distinguished list of out-of-state visitors at the Findlay-Canton South game last night. Heading the roll call of visiting coaches was Stu Holcomb, the ex-Ohio State star now directing Purdue football . . . Also from Indiana were L. V. Phillips, the state high school athletic commissioner, and his assistant, Bob Hinshaw.

Football Giants Admit Strong May Be Through

By The United Press

NEW YORK, April 3 — The New York football Giants finally admitted today that place kicker Ken Strong, one of collegiate and professional football's all-time greats, is getting old.

They announced the signing of Jim Brieske, crack place kicking center on Michigan's undefeated 1947 team.

The signing of Brieske, who kicked 126 points after touchdown during his four years at Michigan, may mean that the veteran Strong, who is more than 40 years old, is on his way out of the National Football league.

Strong has played football for nearly a quarter of a century, begining at West Haven, Conn., high school. In his senior year at New York university in 1928, he led the nation's scorers with 162 points. In nine seasons with the Giants, he compiled an all-time club scoring record of 351 points on 16 touchdowns, 36 field goals and 147 points after touchdown.

CLEVELAND BARONS FAVORED IN PLAYOFFS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 3 — The Cleveland Barons, unbeaten in 31 of their last 32 starts, will be favored to defeat Buffalo in the American Hockey league Calder Cup finals starting tonight.

The second game of the finals will be played here Tuesday night, with the club shifting to Buffalo for the third game Thursday and the fourth contest Sunday, April 11. The remaining "if necessary" tilts will be held here April 13, at Buffalo April 15, and at the Cleveland arena April 17.

Shakeup in ABC Standings Expected

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 3—A shakeup in the American Bowling Congress team standings was expected this weekend with the invasion of top flight quintets from all parts of the country.

Yesterday's rolling produced one of the tournament's major surprises when Lester Lake, a booster bowler from St. John's, Mich., pounded out a 711 series to take the singles lead.

Lake's mark, good enough to beat out Nick Miller of Massillon, O., by two pins for the solo competition lead, was not the highest series of the current tournament. The top score, a 720 total is claimed by Clarence Collier of Youngstown, O., who marked it up while turning his pace setting 1922 all-events score.

Santa Anita Hopes For Better Weather

By The Associated Press

ARCADIA, Calif., April 3 — Grand Circuit harness racing people prayed for good weather today for the second round of their 35-day meeting at Santa Anita park.

Rain and storm clouds cut the crowd and betting down to the lowest mark of the three-year record of the circuit as sponsored in southern California by the Western Harness Racing association.

The Diplomat came through as expected to win the first half of yesterday's feature, the Pasadena pace, with Mose Hanover second and Chief Direct third.

Little Judy captured the second division race, with Dale McKyle in the place and Tillie Hal in the show positions.

The purse for each section of the feature yesterday and today amounts to $3,750.

Don Burkey, Assistant Bucyrus Coach, Resigns

By The United Press

BUCYRUS, O., April 3—Don Burkey, assistant football and basketball coach at Bucyrus High school, announced today he has resigned to take a job as general manager of the Shelby Sands Asphalt Co., Marietta, with offices also in Zanesville.

Burkey, a former Air Force major and a graduate of Capital university assumes his new post next week. He also was head mentor of the Bucyrus High track team.

BILLY ROHR OFFERED MASSILLON POSITION

PORTSMOUTH, O., April 3—Billy Rohr, director of athletics at Portsmouth High school, said yesterday he had been offered the job of head basketball coach and director of physical education at Massillon High school.

He would succeed William G. Houghton, who has been appointed head football coach at Akron university.

BOBCAT RALLY SHORT

By The Associated Press

DURHAM, N. C., April 3—Ohio university's four-run rally in the lucky seventh faded just one run short yesterday and the Ohioans bowed to Duke university baseballers, 6-5. Chuck Horn collected the first Bobcat hit in the fourth, but his mates hit nine times in late innings. Nine Ohio U. hitters paraded to the plate in the big seventh.

McMillen Feeds Beat Behm's To Win Gold Medal Tourney

McMillen Feed climaxed a full season of basketball last night at the Y.M.C.A. by downing Tiffin Behm's in the Gold Medal tournament, 55-47.

Schlairet Transfer blasted Roxy Grill by a score of 69-41 to take third place.

McMillen and Tiffin staged a real championship playoff with the Feed boys grabbing their winning margin in the last three minutes of play. Tiffin trailed 14-11 at the end of the first period and then forged ahead by four points, 26-22, at the intermission. McMillen then took the initiative and came back to grab a 38-35 lead at the three-quarter mark. In the final stanza it was nip and tuck up to the last three minutes when McMillen took a six-point advantage which they never relinquished. Moran counted 17 points and Jones 13 to pace the winners, while Frank netted 20 points in leading the losers.

Schlairet and Roxy played a close game in the first quarter with the period ending in Roxy's favor, 12-10. But Roxy, playing without their two big guns—Rowland and Blair, slowly fell behind as Schlairet came on to win easily. Harold Dillion was high scorer for Schlairet with 18 counters and West was runner-up with 16. Moncur was hottest for Roxy, netting 13 points for the fourth placers.

In a ceremony after the final game the winning McMillen five received an 18-inch gold trophy and the runner-up Tiffin Behm's were awarded a silver one 12 inches high. The third place Schlairet team won a silver cup and Roxy Grill won a bronze trophy for placing fourth.

Judges Forest Sharrock, Paul Moran, Charles Murray, Robert Reid and Carl Haberman also awarded 71 medals to individual players in addition to the trophies.

Alber Names Trotter For Roosevelt Race

Special to The Star

WESTBURY, N. Y., April 3 — Race Secretary Walter Gibbons today said that George H. Alber of Marion, O., named his young trotter, Allie Lord in the $3,000 Montauk Trot to be raced at Roosevelt Raceway May 22.

Allie Lord is now in training at Rome, Ga., in the stable of Jimmie Wingfield, former assistant to Sep Palin of Greyhound and Grand Circuit fame.

The Alber trotter was one of the better three-year-olds out last year and took a mark of 2:08. She's by Lord Jim, a Hambletonian winner.

Roosevelt Raceway opens May 21 and will offer over a million dollars in purses during the meeting of 127 racing nights.

REDS COMING ALONG, BLAST CARDS, 11-0

By The Associated Press

TAMPA, Fla., April 3 — The other National league clubs are beginning to tip their hats to the Cincinnati Reds.

Not that they detect any dainty, Lady-like qualities about Johnny Neun's lads. It's just that there is a growing respect for the team, based on its showing in exhibition games.

Neun himself squats contentedly on the bench, an enigmatic smile on his cherubic map, and says little, but you get the idea things are coming along all right with him.

He's still worried about second base; the outfield, although flexible, isn't just as he'd want it. But to date the club has shown a tendency to explore long hits for big innings, and pitching that isn't to be laughed off.

One of the big question marks has straightened into an exclamation point — Virgil Stallcup at shortstop.

"He's making the plays out there," Neun says with satisfaction.

Grady Hatton, Babe Young, Augie Galan and Hank Sauer have been hitting that long ball consistently this spring.

Neun says his starting pitchers, behind the fabulous Ewell Blackwell, still are undetermined, but in the next gasp he mentions that Johnny VanderMeer, Howard Fox, and Tommy Hughes are likely starters.

The Reds, riding a seven-game win streak, met the Red Sox today. The Reds hammered the St. Louis Cardinals 11-0, yesterday as Blackwell gave only one hit in five innings, and even cracked out a double that scored two men.

Baseball Hopefuls Pour Into Town For Cub's Spring Training Opener Monday

Twenty-eight baseball hopefuls will pull into town this weekend to be here in time for the Marion Cubs' spring training opener Monday at Lincoln park.

Of the 28, only a handful have had any previous professional experience in baseball, and probably only a handful will remain with the local Cubs once the clubs in the upper brackets start letting their boys go.

Four promising pitchers have signed Cubs contracts, and one of them, Frank DeLuca, who was here in 1945, has had experience in AAA ball. Little for a pitcher at five-foot-eight and 175 pounds, DeLuca nevertheless has a lot of stuff on the ball and was going great at Toronto last year when he broke a leg that put him out of baseball for the season. He was released by the International league club, and decided to start all over again with the Cubs. If he regains his old form, he'll be a big help to the Cubs.

A highly-touted Akron athlete, Simon A. Pavkov, is another prospect. Pavkov graduated from Akron's East High last year. He stands an inch over six feet and weighs 168 pounds.

Tallest player under contract and possibly one with the brightest future is six-foot-three Thomas Jones Jr., a gorilla-like pitcher who is just wild enough to scare them away from the plate while his fast ball goes by. He's a righthander from Brookfield, O.

John Graney is another pitcher who shows some promise. He came to the Cubs late last year and won two, lost two. John is a southpaw from Iowa.

The Cubs have three catchers signed, including manager Lewis (Zeke) Bekeza, who may not play the position if he's needed more elsewhere. Other catchers are John W. Flynn, of Columbus, and Robert Brauer of Chicago. Flynn bats left, stands five-nine, and weighs 170. Brauer was here for a couple of weeks at the end of the season last year. He's five-ten and 160.

Four other lads returning to the Cubs are pitcher Nick Alivojvodic, and infielders Bill Buldoc, Bill Bohlander, and Vito Tutara.

Cub scouts feel that Alivojvodic could become the best pitcher in the Ohio-Indiana circuit if he would bear down and cut out the horseplay. Last year he failed to finish a game. He's a powerful righthander standing six-one, and weighing 220 pounds.

Bolduc, from Cambridge, Mass., signed a contract with the Cubs last year, but returned home after the first workout. He played for Lumberton, S. C., in 1946. Bohlander was here for a month at the end of the season last year, and Tutura was here briefly at the start of the season before being released. He is only five-six, weighs 170.

The boy to watch in the infield, believes Cub scout Tony Lucadello, is six foot Dale Schnepf, a Decatur, Ind. product. Another Cub scout who works the West Virginia area, Dick Spaulding, picks John L. Parsons from Moundsville, W. Va., as the best outfield prospect. Parsons bats left and stands five-eleven.

Another outfield prospect is Bill Crago of Gary, Ind., who can hit a mighty long ball for his size. He weighs but 153 pounds, stands five-eight. He was here briefly at the end of the season last year.

Other pitchers under Cub contracts are Raymon L. Pete of Ashtabula, Lewis Ferraro of Racine, Wis., Fred Wensing of Racine, Ray Burgermeister of Blissfield, Mich., Fred Stortz of Chicago, and Leland Goss of Wellington.

Other infielders signed are Chester Neely of Lebanon, Ray Gestaut of Chicago, another giant at six-three and 220 pounds. George Hanson of Gary, Ind., Kenneth W. Ostrander of Bettsville, a student at Toledo university, and Ronald Burris of La Grange, Ill.

Other outfield candidates include Gerald Peters of Chesterton, Ind., Clement Hill Beven of Lebanon, Ky., and Bob Lamski of East Chicago, Ind., who may be converted into a catcher.

VERDEUR SMASHES OWN TANK RECORDS

By The Associated Press

NEW HAVEN Conn., April 3—As expected, Joe Verdeur of Philadelphia, America's top-ranking Olympic hope in swimming, today dominates the national A.A.U. men's indoor championships in Yale's luxurious pool.

Those who saw Verdeur smash his own collection of world and American breaststroke records last night are hailing him as the "miracle man of the tank."

The 22-year-old La Salle college sophomore topped off three hard preliminary races in the afternoon by taking the 220-yard breaststroke title in 2:30.5.

Then, in his fifth race he went on to win a second individual crown—the 300-yard medley.

Eclipsed by Verdeur's spectacular show were successful defenses of their titles by Bill Smith—220-yard freestyle, and Miller Anderson, one-meter dive. Both represent Ohio State.

Their performances helped the Buckeyes take a handsome lead for the team title with 27 points. Brighton of Atlantic City, mainly Verdeur, and Michigan State were tied for second with 13.
